56 KILLED IN TORNADO BIG DAMAGE NEAR LIMA

Half-Million Property Loss In Three Counties as Twister Strikes Savagely—Many Injured, But No Lives Lost In Allen or Auglaize-cos

Deluge of Rain, Swollen Streams, Flooded Fields Add to Night of Horror for Tornado Victims—Hundreds are Made Homeless by Force of Elements

More than a hundred persons were homeless Tuesday morning as a result of the tornado which swept thru Allen and adjoining counties a few minutes before 8 o'clock Monday night.

Property damage mounting up to more than a half-million dollars was caused by the storm which swooped down and cut a path nearly a mile wide thru parts of Allen, Hardin and Auglaize-cos.

The heaviest damage was suffered in the Harrod, Yoder, Hume, Glynwood, Buckland, Cridersville and Westminster districts. With high velocity, not unlike the cyclone that swept practically the same territory a year ago in March, the wind leveled nearly everything before it.

WATER ADDS DAMAGE

Streams swollen by heavy rains added to the general disaster. The Auglaize and St. Marys rivers overflowed their banks and in various places where houses were destroyed, the occupants were prevented, by high waters, from going to the homes of neighbors. Considerable suffering was occasioned.

So far, a summary of the night of horror indicates that no human lives were lost, but horses and other livestock were killed. Flood conditions and telegraph and telephone lines down, isolated a number of smaller towns for a number of hours.

The gale passed south of Lima, in a northeasterly direction, striking near Cridersville with savage force. Scores and hundreds of homes, barns and other structures in the three counties were razed or partially demolished.

In several instances, houses were moved from their foundations and others were raised high in the air, leaving horses and cattle standing unharmed on the floors of the structures.

Heavy rains flooded the streets in parts of Lima where the sewers were inadequate to carry off the water. Ottawa river was well within its banks thru the city, but the flood waters reached a point above their highest mark in the earlier spring freshets.

RELIEF FORCES OUT

Relief forces were organized by persons adjacent to the storm swept territory Tuesday morning. Many Lima people offered their services in any manner needed, but it was learned that all the affected territory was being well taken care of and relief afforded quickly where needed.

STRIKES NEAR YODER

The storm swept across a belt nearly a quarter of a mile wide south and east of Yoder, five miles from Lima, leaving destruction in its wake.

Poles carrying the power lines on the Springfield division of the Ohio Electric were leveled, interrupting service for more than 12 hours.

The fury of the storm wrecked the farm home of John Van Fleet, and he lost a barn. Mrs. Van Fleet, 64, was hurled from her bed when the house collapsed about her, and was injured by being trapped in the wreckage. Her two grandsons were slightly injured.

She sustained a long cut on her neck and face. She was brought to Lima (City hospital) for treatment. Later 2 by 4 inches in diameter was buried thru the building as if from a cannon. The building was moved from its foundations and torn to pieces. A horse and cow in a shed escaped death when the building was blown over.

Across the road a barn on the San Jacobs farm was wrecked.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Steven L. Apple, 60, living a half mile east, had a miraculous escape from death, when his barn was blown to pieces by the wind. Apple was sleeping in the barn to care for a mare. He was awakened when the team to shed on the south side of the barn was wrecked and blown away. He reached for a lighted lantern hanging from a rafter. It was extinguished as he grasped it. Then a shed on the main structure collapsed and the main structure started to fall. Apple crawled up a rafter, with "Rover," a dog, as the structure came tumbling down. Two fine black mares were imprisoned in the debris, but were not injured.

Apple was forced to remain in his retreat until daylight, when aid came from nearby farms and extricated him.

A portion of a roof, believed to have blown off the Jacobs barn, a quarter of a mile away, landed in a sugar grove on the Brown farm, south of the Apple place. More than 30 sugar trees were uprooted by the storm. Three persons escaped from a house on the Steven Brown farm, when the storm wrecked the upper story. The family was on the lower floor, having come down on account of the storm.

A barn was unroofed on the place and sheets of tin roofing blown for tremendous distances. More than 20 poles along the Ohio Electric tracks were blown over.

Repairmen cleared the line at noon Tuesday. A new country bungalow, property of Mrs. Anna Smith, on St. John's rd., three miles south of Lima, was twisted from its foundations and wrecked. The building was modern throughout and cost more than $8,000.

An old structure, seemingly in bad repair, formerly the family home, erected some 30 years ago, stood the brunt of the storm intact. It has been recently used for storing grain and machinery, but is now pressed into service as a dwelling once more.

A barn on the Smith place was wrecked, three cows and a horse being killed. A barn on the Frank Shade farm 200 yards south was also demolished, but no stock was killed.

On Main-st road, barns on the E. C. Beiler and W. A. Klumz farms were wrecked and sheds turned over. One horse, property of A. C. Goldman, tenant on the Beiler place, was killed and four others buried. They were extricated.

A hay loader was blown to pieces. A rafter 20 feet long, was blown from the Klumz place for a distance of a quarter mile and buried in the earth for a depth of eight feet. A cow and two horses were killed in the Klumz barn.

WESTMINSTER IS HIT

W. H. Creps, residing near Westminster, reports that the roof from the south side of his residence was blown away, small outbuildings and fences were razed and the north end of the barn was taken off.

Creps reported that when the wind struck the house, the blast down the chimney blew the lids off the stove. All communication was cut off, as telegraph and telephone poles are down.

On the W. H. Creps farm two barns and other buildings were demolished. The Philip Ulery barn was torn to pieces. The residence on the Scott farm was moved from its foundation. Livestock was killed at several places. It is reported.

DAMAGE TO RAILROADS

Telegraph lines down along the D. T. & L. Railroad in the storm district, south of Lima, but trains are running, officials state. No damage was occasioned to wires or otherwise on the B. & O. Railroad. The Pennsylvania was not in the path of the storm.

WESTERN OHIO POLES DOWN

Twenty poles, carrying high tension and trolley lines, north of Cridersville, on the Western Ohio Railroad, were leveled when the storm struck that territory. Car service was hampered while the tracks were being cleared and wire connections reestablished. Passengers were transferred during the day Tuesday where the lines were down.

On the Ohio Electric, at siding No. 7, seven miles south of Lima, passengers were transferred Tuesday at a point where all poles were down for a distance of half a mile.

On the Ft. Wayne, Van Wert & Lima interurban railway, service was resumed Tuesday. Sixty-five poles were blown down between Monroeville and Ft. Wayne in a storm Sunday night.

The St. Marys river overflowed its banks last night, under stress of heavy rains. Water temporarily put the St. Marys Leader equipment out of commission. There was 16 inches of water in the press room. The

Killing Frost Tonight

WEATHER—OHIO—Fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight with heavy frost, slowly rising temperature, Wednesday.

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—A heavy frost which may be "killing" in the lower sections, was predicted for Ohio for tonight by the United States Weather Bureau today. Slowly rising temperatures are promised for tomorrow.

The weather bureau warned fruit growers that extreme care should be taken tonight to protect their trees and that if possible smudge pots should be used.

Advised of the weather bureau's prediction for a heavy frost for tonight, L. J. Taber, state director of agriculture, said today that farmers and fruit growers of Ohio probably could save themselves thousands of dollars by the judicious use of smudge pots and fires tonight, should the weather appear threatening.

"Farmers having smudge pots should use them tonight by all means," said Taber. "Fruit growers and farmers who are not equipped with smudge pots may find value in the use of fires, banked with wet straw or damp manure, the idea being to get a heavy smoke that can settle down over orchards and protect them from the frost."

"Don't start smudge fires too early," warned Taber. "The thermometer should be watched and the fires should be started when the temperature goes below 35 degrees."

Taber said that the prospects have been for a bumper fruit crop in Ohio this year.

PACT MAY WRECK GENOA PARLEY

Russo-German Treaty Threatens to Disrupt Conference

ACTION CALLED TEACHERY

France Quits Meeting—Other Allies Astounded

GENOA.—(United Press)—France will take no further part in the conferences at Genoa, with either Russia or Germany, Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation, declared today. If the treaty signed at Rapallo by Tschichaner and Rathenau is not immediately abrogated.

The French statesman was semi-officially reported to have the backing of his government in this stand. Allied leaders met at 11 o'clock. Other committee meetings were cancelled in view of the importance of the decision to be taken regarding the Russo-German pact.

Well informed observers declared the Germans or Russians considered the treaty of Rapallo jeopardizes success of the entire conference.

PARLEY IMPOSSIBLE

PARIS.—(United Press)—"Russia and Germany, by signing a treaty at Rapallo, have rendered the Genoa economic conference impossible," an official statement from the Quai d'Orsay, the French foreign office, said today.

The cabinet today approved the action of Louis Barthou, its chief delegate, who telegraphed to Premier Poincare he had decided not to sit in further conference with either the Germans or Russians, in view of their treachery.

A concerted allied move against the new treaty was urged by a cabinet resolution. Final instructions will be sent Barthou after today's meeting of allied leaders at Genoa.

EXPERTS MEET

GENOA.—(Associated Press)—The organizers of the Genoa conference today were attempting to grope their way out of the debris and confusion caused by the explosion of the German-Russian bombshell, the secret signing of a formal peace treaty between the two nations at Rapallo on Sunday.

The judicial experts of the powers which organized the conference met to consider whether the new pact violates the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles or conflicts with the resolutions of the supreme council at Cannes on which the present conference is founded, and which all the nations coming to Genoa were expected to accept as the basis of the meeting.

The experts later were to report to an assembly which included not only the chief representatives of the five inviting powers—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and Belgium—but also the leading delegates of the little entente nations, who were especially invited because of the vital character of the question to be dealt with, and its possible effects on Central Europe. Without exception, the delegations of the thirty-four countries represented here are wondering what the real effect of the surprise treaty will be on the conference. The pact constitutes recognition by Germany of the Russian government—a question forming one of the chief points of the conference agenda.

TRIAL OF AUDITOR AND HIS DEPUTY POSTPONED

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio.—J. W. Quinn, of Corning, is temporary auditor of Perry-co today, following the suspension late yesterday of C. L. Chute, under indictment on charges of forgery.

Chute was suspended by county commissioners, after affidavits of misconduct in office had been reviewed by Probate Judge Edgar Hammond.

Auditor Chute and his deputy, A. B. Armstrong, were to be tried yesterday, but their cases were postponed, pending action on an alternative writ in mandamus filed against Chief Justice Marshall.

CHIEF JUSTICE IS BEFORE BAR

Precedents Are Shattered in State Supreme Court

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—Precedents were shattered in the state supreme court today when the chief justice was before the bar as a defendant and when newspapers were used to supply the court with printed briefs in the case at bar.

The case involved the mandamus proceeding instituted by Clarence L. Chute, auditor of Perry-co, to compel Chief Justice Marshall of the supreme court to assign another judge to hear the cases in which he is charged by an indictment of misusing county funds. The chief justice had refused to assign another judge and the supreme court had granted a naiterative writ of mandamus requiring its chief to show cause why he should not assign another judge to hear the case.

Chief Justice Marshall made no argument before the bar in defense of his position today, relying solely upon his brief, which was attached to a denurrer to the petition. This brief had been published in a Zanesville paper along with Chief Justice Marshall's picture and copies of the paper were distributed to the court by Attorney Charles J. Dragan, chief counsel for Mr. Chute.

The chief justice had refused to furnish him with copies of the brief. The attorney general appears as an attorney of record in the case, defending the chief justice, he was not present. Two members of the attorney general's staff, however, occupied seats among the spectators.

Chief Justice Marshall was not in the court room while Mr. Dragan was arguing the case.

DECIDE FOR BONUS

Senate Republicans Agree on Passing Compensation Bill

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press)—Decision to pass a soldiers' bonus bill at this session of congress was reached today by senate Republicans in party conference. The vote was 36 to 9 on a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin.

The conference resolution as made public follows: "It is the sense of this conference that the senate should at this session pass a soldiers' bonus bill and that the Republican members of the finance committee be requested to report such a bill within a reasonable time."

The conference also decreed that the senate should proceed to the consideration of the administration tariff bill on Thursday "without further delay."

900 MILE FLIGHT OVER SEA BEGUN

Portuguese Aviators on Third Leg of Journey

MOST DANGEROUS OF TRIP

Bound for St. Paul Rocks in Mid-Atlantic

PORTO PRAYA, Cape Verde Islands.—(Associated Press)—The Portuguese trans-Atlantic aviators, Captains Coutinho and Saccadura, hopped off at 5:50 o'clock this morning for St. Paul Rocks on the third and probably most dangerous leg of their flight from Lisbon to Rio Janeiro.

Their route lay over 900 miles of water, devoid of markers or guide-ships, and they expected to reach the Rocks in mid-Atlantic, in from ten to twelve hours flying.

The landing at St. Paul Rocks is expected to be difficult as there is only a small bay or opening between the two islets on the northeast side. This bay or cove is only 56 yards across at the entrance and one hundred yards long and presents some difficulties, even to vessels, except in the most moderate weather.

The seaplane is awaited at the Rocks by the Portuguese cruiser Republica, which is carrying a supply of gasoline and oil and which will broadcast the news of the aviators' arrival.

From St. Paul Rocks, the airman plan to fly to the island of Fernando Noronha, approximately 350 miles off the Brazilian coast, and from there to Pernambuco.

KISSES WIFE, THEN SHOOTS HER

New York Man Kills Self After Firing on Mate

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)—Frank Muller kissed his wife goodbye on a subway platform today, then shot her and killed himself. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Muller had been estranged four years. When she refused to return to him, he said "well, you tell the police how it happened," embraced her, then fired.

In Muller's suit case, found on the station platform, was a letter to his parents, saying: "By the time you receive this letter you will probably be somewhat upset."

"Everything has been a failure. I cannot live without my wife. It is too bad. Elsie and I could not agree and must be parted. Please take care of Mildred (his daughter). Please bury us in the same grave."

CAR FIGHT ENDED

Detroit Votes to Purchase Street Railway System

DETROIT.—(United Press)—The city by an overwhelming majority yesterday voted to purchase the city lines of the Detroit United Railway for $19,850,000, the figures agreed upon by Mayor Couzens and stockholders of the corporation.

The special election vote was 55,658 to 12,189. It ended a fight which has been raging in this city for nearly 20 years.

May 15, the city takes over the lines of the corporation and the entire system, 360 miles, goes under municipal ownership.

Heavy Toll in Death and Property Taken in Sweep of Storms Over Middle West—318 Persons Injured

Loss Will Run Into Millions—Illinois and Indiana Hardest Hit—Many Villages And Towns are Wrecked

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—Sweeping northeastward thru the middle western states, a storm which had its origin in the Rocky Mountain region Sunday, has passed over Ohio today, leaving in its wake death and much destruction. A loss of 56 lives was attributed to the storm, which developed considerable energy as it progressed over Illinois and Indiana, taking in many places the form of tornadoes. The number of injured is placed at 318. Damage to property will mount into millions.

Accompanied by rains which sent streams, then swollen, coursing far beyond their usual channels, the storm brought added suffering and inconvenience to some communities which for several days have been affected by flood conditions.

COLD WEATHER ADDS TO SUFFERING OF MANY HOMELESS NOW LIVING IN TENTS

A drop in the temperature to below the seasonal normal added to the suffering of families whose homes had been destroyed by wind or made uninhabitable by flood, and who are now living in tents or improvised shelters.

Indiana apparently felt the full effect of the wind storms. In that state, twenty-one persons are known to have met death in different communities.

Early yesterday morning the storm centered in Illinois. Striking a number of villages in the darkness, tornadoes wrought havoc to many homes and such reports as were available from agricultural communities which had been stripped of nearly all means of communication indicated that 22 persons had been killed.

Missouri, Iowa and Kansas had felt the storm early Sunday, but in these states it lacked the intensity which marked its sweep across Illinois and Indiana and into Ohio.

TWO DISTINCT TORNADO BELTS IN INDIANA, WITH LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY

As it passed over Indiana, there were two distinct tornado belts. The one in the southern part sustained some damage, but across the northern part of the state there was a wind-swept strip in which the loss of life was heavy. Warren-co, in the western part of the state, reported a loss of twelve lives. Four met death in Madison-co, in the central portion of the state.

The death toll was greatest in central Illinois. The villages of Irvington and Plainfield, near Centralia, were badly wrecked and several persons were killed. Other fatalities in this state were in small rural communities.

Wires were blown down by the wind and telephone and telegraph companies hurried today to complete repairs. With restored communication, it was considered probable that complete reports might indicate even greater disaster than was indicated early today.

HOMES ARE LAID FLAT

ATTICA, Ind.—(United Press)—

National guardsmen patrolled the storm-stricken areas of western Indiana today where 13 persons lost their lives and scores were injured.

Red Cross relief from Chicago was being administered and temporary shelter was being erected for hundreds made homeless.

Ten were killed at Hedrick, four at Williamsport, two at Sloan and two at Brook. Nurses and physicians were checking up on those injured and frantic relatives were rushing from one place to another searching for dear ones lifted up in the cloud and carried away before their eyes.

Homes and business buildings at Williamsport in the path of the twister were laid flat. Hedrick and

The little village of Hedrick, Ind., was almost wiped out. Four houses and two churches, comprising a group known as Pleasant View Corners, were razed and on the Ulrich Hunter farm, five miles north of West Lebanon, Ind., three houses and many farm buildings were destroyed.

The storm doing the most damage struck this community at dusk last night. It was the second of the day, one early in the morning having claimed the life of John Hasty, south of Williamsport. It struck the state near the Indiana-Illinois line and lifted soon after it left Williamsport. Livestock carcasses were lying in the roadways and in field and trees were laid flat across the roads blocking traffic.

DANVILLE, Ill.—(Associated Press)—Ten persons are known to have been killed and 41 injured, several probably fatally in a cyclone which swept across Champaign and Vermillion-cos, Illinois, and Warren-co, Indiana, late yesterday afternoon, doing damage estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

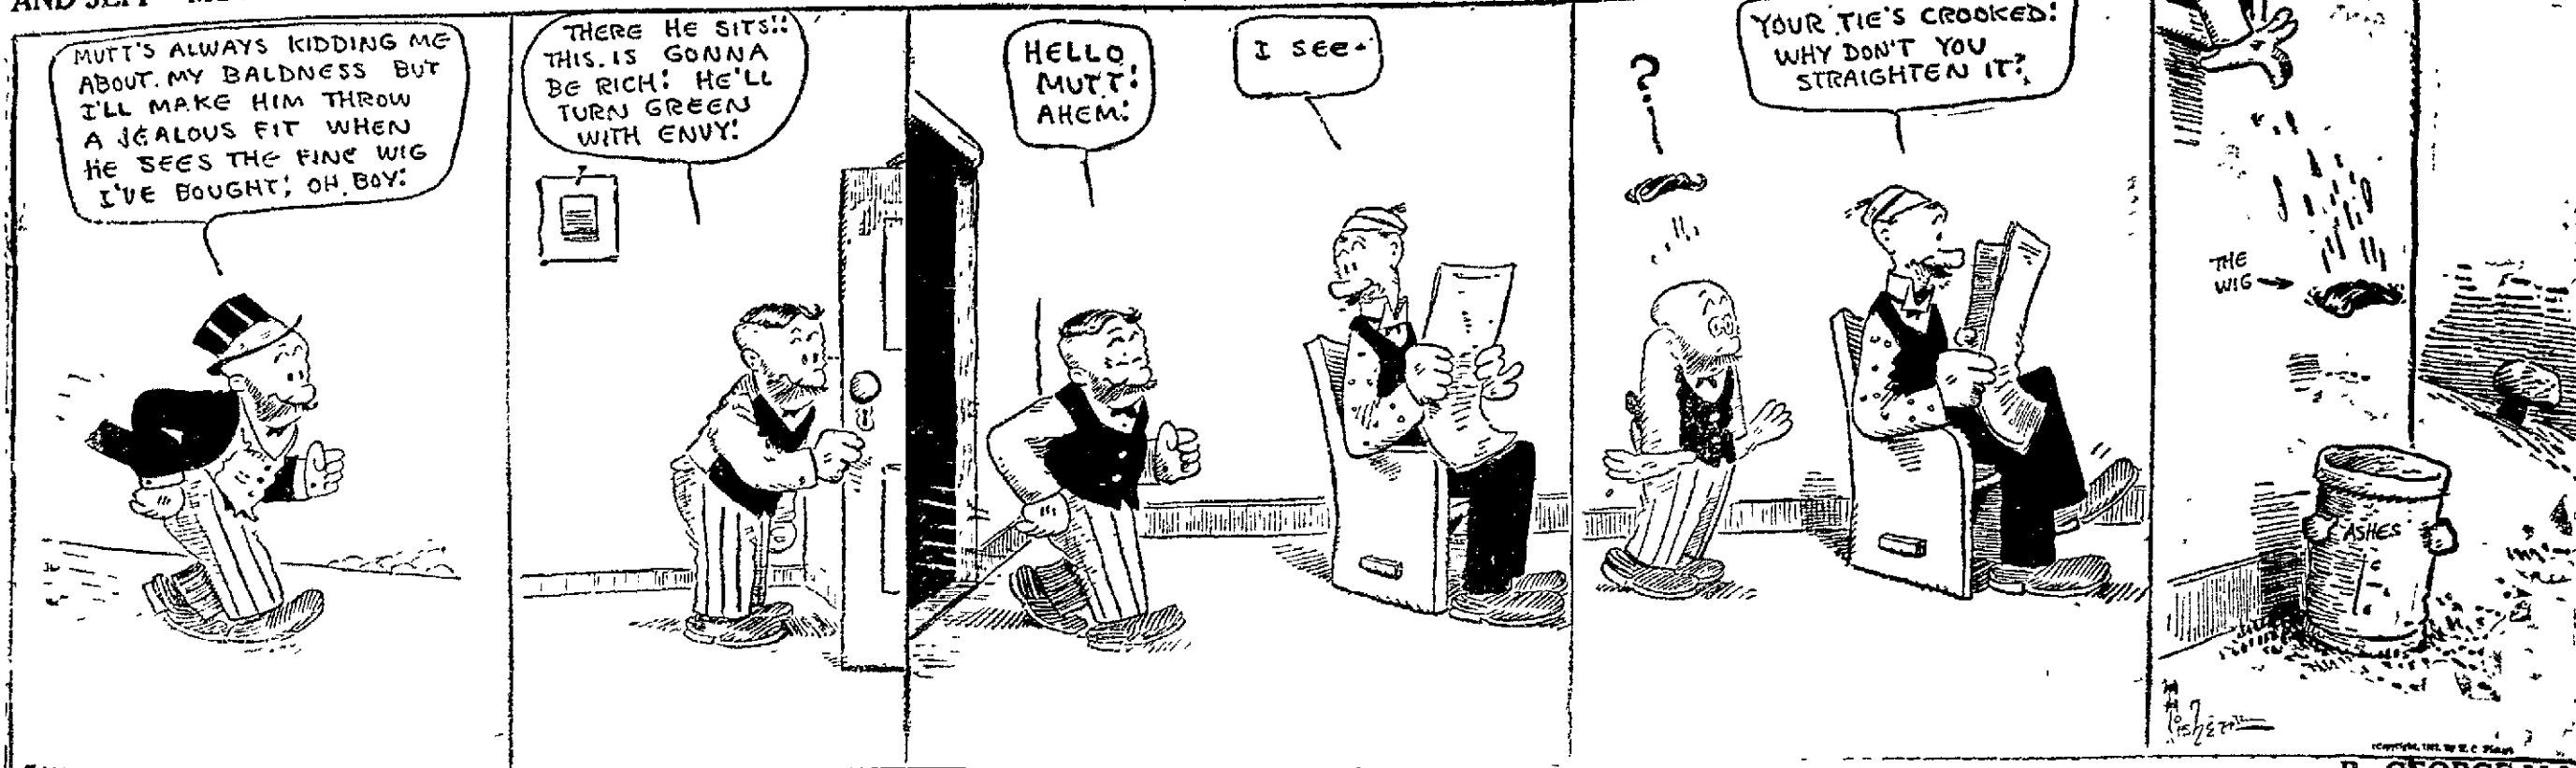

Heavy rains and swollen streams damaged farm crops in central Missouri.

Rich Hill and Joplin, Mo., reported heavy hail, rain and wind doing considerable damage. Damage in western Arkansas where small tornadoes swept Altus, Ozark, Mantou and other small villages, will total $150,000, it was estimated.

Damage to property, fruit and crops at Moneet, Mo., will total $100,000, dispatches said.

Half-Million Property Loss In Three Counties as Twister Strikes Savagely—Many Injured, But No Lives Lost In Allen or Auglaize-cos

Deluge of Rain, Swollen Streams, Flooded Fields Add to Night of Horror for Tornado Victims—Hundreds are Made Homeless by Force of Elements

More than a hundred persons were homeless Tuesday morning as a result of the tornado which swept thru Allen and adjoining counties a few minutes before 8 o'clock Monday night.

Property damage mounting up to more than a half-million dollars was caused by the storm which swooped down and cut a path nearly a mile wide thru parts of Allen, Hardin and Auglaize-cos.

The heaviest damage was suffered in the Harrod, Yoder, Hume, Glynwood, Buckland, Cridersville and Westminster districts. With high velocity, not unlike the cyclone that swept practically the same territory a year ago in March, the wind leveled nearly everything before it.

WATER ADDS DAMAGE

Streams swollen by heavy rains added to the general disaster. The Auglaize and St. Marys rivers overflowed their banks and in various places where houses were destroyed, the occupants were prevented, by high waters, from going to the homes of neighbors. Considerable suffering was occasioned.

So far, a summary of the night of horror indicates that no human lives were lost, but horses and other livestock were killed. Flood conditions and telegraph and telephone lines down, isolated a number of smaller towns for a number of hours.

The gale passed south of Lima, in a northeasterly direction, striking near Cridersville with savage force, scores and hundreds of homes, barns and other structures in the three counties were razed or partially demolished.

In several instances, houses were fired from their foundations and ruins were raised high in the air, leaving up horses and cattle, standing submerged on the floors of the structures.

Heavy rains flooded the streets in parts of Lima where the sewers were inadequate to carry off the water. Ottawa river was well within its banks thru the city, but the flood waters reached a point above their high mark in the earlier spring freshet.

RELIEF FORCES OUT

Relief forces were organized by persons adjacent to the storm swept territory Tuesday morning. Many Lima people offered their services in any manner possible, but it was learned that all the affected territory was being well taken care of, and relief afforded quickly where needed.

STRIKES NEAR YODER

The storm swept across a belt nearly a quarter of a mile wide south and east of Yoder five miles from Lima, leaving destruction in its wake.

Lines carrying the power lines on the Springfield division of the Ohio Electric were leveled, interrupting service for more than 12 hours.

The fury of the storm wrecked the farm home of John Van Fleet, and destroyed a barn. Mrs. Van Fleet, 44, was hurled from her bed when the house collapsed about her, and was injured by being trapped in the wreckage. Her two grandsons were slightly injured.

She sustained a long cut on her back and face. She was brought to Lima for medical treatment. A bullet, 4 inches in diameter was a centimeter from the building as it moved from its foundations and torn to pieces. A horse and cow in a shed escaped death when the building was blown over.

ACROSS THE ROAD A BARN ON THE MIRE

Steven L. Apple, 60, living a half mile east had a miraculous escape from death, when his barn was blown to pieces by the wind.

Apple was sleeping in the barn to care for a mare. He was awakened when he went to shed on the south side of the barn was wrecked and fled for his life. He reached for a lighted lantern hanging from a rafter. It was extinguished as he grasped it.

Then a shot on the north side collapsed and the main structure of a corn shelter, with "Rover," a faithful dog as timbers sagged and the structure came tumbling down. Two fine black horses were imprisoned in the debris, but were not injured.

Apple was forced to remain in his retreat until daylight, when aid came from nearby farms and extricated him.

A portion of a roof, believed to have blown off the Jacobs barn, a quarter of a mile away, landed in a sugar grove on the Brown farm, south of the Apple place. More than 30 sugar trees were uprooted by the storm. Three persons escaped from a house on the Steven Brown farm, when the storm wrecked the upper story. The family was on the lower floor, having come down on account of the storm.

A barn was unroofed on the place and sheets of tin roofing blown for tremendous distances. More than 20 poles along the Ohio Electric tracks were blown over.

BUNGALOW DESTROYED

A new country bungalow, property of Mrs. Anna Smith, on St. John's rd., three miles south of Lima, was twisted from its foundations and wrecked. The building was modern throughout and cost more than $6,000.

An old structure, seemingly in bad repair, formerly the family home, erected some 30 years ago, stood the brunt of the storm intact. It has been recently used for storing grain and machinery, but is now pressed into service as a dwelling once more.

A barn on the Smith place was wrecked, three cows and a horse being killed. A barn on the Frank Shade farm, 200 yards south was also demolished, but no stock was killed.

On Main-st. road, barns on the E. C. Beller and W. A. Kline farms were wrecked and sheds turned over. One horse, property of A. C. Goldman, tenant on the Beller place, was killed and four others buried. They were extricated.

A hay rack was blown to pieces. A rather 20 feet long, was blown from the Kline place for a distance of a quarter mile and buried in the earth for a depth of eight feet. A cow and two horses were killed in the Kline barn.

WESTMINSTER IS HIT

W. H. Creps, residing near Westminster, reports that the roof from the south side of his residence was blown away, small outbuildings and fences were razed and the north end of the barn was taken off.

Creps reported that when the wind struck the house, the blast down the chimney blew the lids off the stove. All communication was cut off, as telegraph and telephone poles are down.

On the W. H. Creps farm two barns and other buildings were demolished. The Philip Clery barn was torn to pieces. The residence on the Scott farm was transferred during the day. Livestock was killed at several places, it is reported.

DAMAGE TO RAILROADS

Telegraph lines are down along the D. T. & L. Railroad in the storm district, south of Lima, but trains are running. Officials said, no damage was occasioned to wires or otherwise on the B. & O. Railroad. The Pennsylvania was not in the path of the storm.

WESTERN OHIO POLES DOWN

Twenty poles, carrying high tension and trolley lines, north of Cridersville, on the Western Ohio Railway, were leveled when the storm struck that territory. Car service was hampered while the tracks were being cleared and wire connections reestablished. Passengers were transferred during the day. Tuesday where the lines were down.

On the Ohio Electric, at siding No. 7, seven miles south of Lima, passengers were transferred Tuesday at a point where all poles were down for a distance of half a mile.

On the Ft. Wayne, Van Wert & Lima interurban railway, service resumed Tuesday. Sixty-five poles were blown down between Monroeville and Ft. Wayne in a storm Sunday night.

WIND AND WATER

The St. Marys river overflowed its banks last night, under stress of heavy rains. Water temporarily put the St. Marys Leader equipment out of commission. There was 16 inches of water in the press room. The

Killing Frost Tonight

WEATHER—OHIO—Fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight with heavy frost, slowly rising temperature, Wednesday.

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—A heavy frost which may be "killing" in the lower sections, was predicted for Ohio for tonight by the United States Weather Bureau today. Slowly rising temperatures are promised for tomorrow.

The weather bureau warned fruit growers that extreme care should be taken tonight to protect their trees and that if possible smudge pots should be used.

Advised of the weather bureau's prediction, for a heavy frost for tonight, L. J. Taber, state director of agriculture, said today that farmers and fruit growers of Ohio probably could save themselves thousands of dollars by the judicious use of smudge pots and fires tonight, should the weather appear threatening.

"Farmers having smudge pots should use them tonight by all means," said Taber. "Fruit growers and farmers who are not equipped with smudge pots may find value in the use of fires, banked with wet straw or damp manure, the idea being to get a heavy smoke that can settle down over orchards and protect them from the frost."

"Don't start smudge fires too early," warned Taber. "The thermometer should be watched and the fires should be started when the temperature goes below 35 degrees."

Taber said that the prospects have been for a bumper fruit crop in Ohio this year.

PACT MAY WRECK GENOA PARLEY

Russo-German Treaty Threatens to Disrupt Conference

ACTION CALLED TEACHERY

France Quits Meeting—Other Allies Astounded

GENOA. — (United Press) — France will take no further part in the conference at Genoa, with either Russia or Germany, Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation, declared today, if the treaty signed at Rapallo by Tchitcherine and Rathenau is not immediately abrogated. The French statesman was semi-officially reported to have the backing of his government in this stand. Allied leaders met at 11 o'clock. Other committee meetings were cancelled in view of the importance of the decision to be taken regarding the Russo-German pact.

Well informed observers declared the allied leaders considered the treaty of Rapallo jeopardizes success of the entire conference. PARIS — (United Press) — "Russia and Germany, by signing a treaty at Rapallo, have rendered the Genoa economic conference impossible," an official statement from the Quai d'Orsay, the French foreign office, said today.

The cabinet today approved the action of Louis Barthou, its chief delegate, who telegraphed to Premier Poincare he had decided not to sit in further conference with either the Germans or Russians, in view of their treachery.

A concerted allied move against the new treaty was urged by a cabinet resolution. Final instructions will be sent Barthou after today's meeting of allied leaders at Genoa.

EXPERTS MEET

GENOA. — (Associated Press) — The organizers of the Genoa conference today were attempting to grope their way out of the debris and confusion caused by the explosion of the German-Russian bombshell, the secret signing of a formal peace treaty between the two nations at Rapallo on Sunday.

The judicial experts of the powers which organized the conference met to consider whether the new pact violates the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles or conflicts with the resolutions of the supreme council at Cannes on which the present conference is founded, and which all the nations coming to Genoa were expected to accept as the basis of the meeting.

The experts later were to report to an assembly which included not only the chief representatives of the five inviting powers — Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and Belgium — but also the leading delegates of the little entente nations, who were especially invited because of the vital character of the question to be dealt with, and its possible effects on Central Europe. Without exception, the delegations of the thirty-four countries represented here are wondering what the real effect of the surprise treaty will be on the conference. The pact constitutes recognition by Germany of the Russian government — a question forming one of the chief points of the conference agenda.

TRIAL OF AUDITOR AND HIS DEPUTY POSTPONED

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio.—J. W. Quinn, of Corning, is temporary auditor of Perry-co today, following the suspension late yesterday of C. L. Chute, under indictment on charges of forgery.

Chute was suspended by county commissioners, after affidavits of "misconduct in office" had been reviewed by Judge Judge Edgar Hammond.

Auditor Chute and his deputy, A. B. Armstrong, were to be tried yesterday, but their cases were postponed, pending action on an alternative writ in mandamus filed against Chief Justice Marshall.

CHIEF JUSTICE IS BEFORE BAR

Precedents Are Shattered in State Supreme Court

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press) — Precedents were shattered in the state supreme court today when the chief justice was before the bar as a defendant and when newspapers were used to supply the court with printed briefs in the case at bar.

The case involved the mandamus proceeding instituted by Clarence L. Chute, auditor of Perry-co, to compel Chief Justice Marshall of the supreme court to assign another judge to hear the cases in which he is charged by an indictment of misusing county funds. The chief justice had refused to assign another judge and the supreme court had granted a mandamus writ of mandamus requiring its chief to show cause why he should not assign another judge to hear the case.

Chief Justice Marshall made no argument before the bar in defense of his position today, relying solely upon his brief, which was attached to a demurrer to the petition. This brief had been published in a Zanesville paper along with Chief Justice Marshall's picture and copies of the paper were distributed to the court by Attorney Charles J. Dragan, chief counsel for Mr. Chute. Mr. Dragan said the chief justice had refused to furnish him with copies of the brief.

The attorney general appears as an attorney of record in the case, defending the chief justice, he was not present. Two members of the attorney general's staff, however, occupied seats among the spectators. Chief Justice Marshall was not in the court room while Mr. Dragan was arguing the case.

DECIDE FOR BONUS

Senate Republicans Agree on Passing Compensation Bill

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Decision to pass a soldiers' bonus bill at this session of congress was reached today by senate Republicans in party conference. The vote was 36 to 9 on a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin.

The conference resolution as made public, follows: "It is the sense of this conference that the senate should at this session pass a soldiers' bonus bill and that the Republican members of the finance committee be requested to report such a bill within a reasonable time."

The conference also decreed that the senate should proceed to the consideration of the administration tariff bill on Thursday "without further delay."

The measure will be called up at that time and it was announced the majority membership would make every effort to hold a quorum continuously.

900 MILE FLIGHT OVER SEA BEGUN

Portuguese Aviators on Third Leg of Journey

MOST DANGEROUS OF TRIP

Bound for St. Paul Rocks in Mid-Atlantic

PORTO PRAYA, Cape Verde Islands. — (Associated Press) — The Portuguese trans-Atlantic aviators, Captains Coutinho and Sacadura, hopped off at 5:50 o'clock this morning for St. Paul Rocks on the third and probably most dangerous leg of their flight from Lisbon to Rio Janeiro.

Their route lay over 300 miles of water, devoid of markers or guide-ships, and they expected to reach the Rocks in mid-Atlantic, in from ten to twelve hours flying.

The landing at St. Paul Rocks is expected to be difficult as there is only a small bay or opening between the two islets on the northeast side. This bay or cove is only 50 yards across at the entrance and one hundred yards long and presents some difficulties, even to vessels, except in the most moderate weather.

The seaplane is awaited at the Rocks by the Portuguese cruiser Republica, which is carrying a supply of gasoline and oil and which will broadcast the news of the aviators' arrival.

From St. Paul Rocks, the aviators plan to fly to the island of Fernando Noronha approximately 350 miles off the Brazilian coast, and from there to Pernambuco.

KISSES WIFE, THEN SHOTS HER

New York Man Kills Self After Firing on Mate

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Frank Muller kissed his wife goodbye on a subway platform today, then shot her and killed himself. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Muller had been estranged four years. When she returned to return to him, he said "well, you tell the police how it happened," he embraced her, then fired.

In Muller's suit case, found on the station platform, was a letter to his parents, saying: "By the time you receive this letter you will probably be somewhat upset."

"Everything has been a failure. I cannot live without my wife. It is too bad. Elsie and I could not agree and must be parted. Please take care of Mildred (his daughter). Please bury us in the same grave."

CAR FIGHT ENDED

Detroit Votes to Purchase Street Railway System

DETROIT — (United Press) — The city by an overwhelming majority yesterday voted to purchase the city lines of the Detroit United Railway for $19,550,000, the figures agreed upon by Mayor Couzens and stockholders of the corporation.

The special election vote was 55,658 to 12,189. It ended a fight which has been raging in this city for nearly 20 years.

May 15, the city takes over the lines of the corporation and the entire system, 360 miles, goes under "municipal ownership."

Heavy Toll in Death and Property Taken in Sweep of Storms Over Middle West — 318 Persons Injured

Loss Will Run Into Millions — Illinois and Indiana Hardest Hit—Many Villages And Towns are Wrecked

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—Sweeping northeastward thru the middle western states, a storm which had its origin in the Rocky Mountain region Sunday, has passed over Ohio today, leaving in its wake death and much destruction. A loss of 56 lives was attributed to the storm, which developed considerable energy as it progressed over Illinois and Indiana, taking in many places the form of tornadoes. The number of injured is placed at 318. Damage to property will mount into millions.

Accompanied by rains which sent streams, then swollen, coursing far beyond their usual channels, the storm brought added suffering and inconvenience to some communities which for several days have been affected by flood conditions.

COLD WEATHER ADDS TO SUFFERING OF MANY HOMELESS NOW LIVING IN TENTS

A drop in the temperature to below the seasonal normal added to the suffering of families whose homes had been destroyed by wind or made uninhabitable by flood, and who are now living in tents or improvised shelters.

Indiana apparently felt the full effect of the wind storms. In that state, twenty-one persons are known to have met death in different communities.

Early yesterday morning the storm centered in Illinois. Striking a number of villages in the darkness, tornadoes wrought havoc to many homes and such reports as were available from agricultural communities which had been stripped of nearly all means of communication indicated that 22 persons had been killed.

Missouri, Iowa and Kansas had felt the storm early Sunday, but in these states it lacked the intensity which marked its sweep across Illinois and Indiana and into Ohio.

TWO DISTINCT TORNADO BELTS IN INDIANA, WITH LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY

As it passed over Indiana, there were two distinct tornado belts. The one in the southern part sustained some damage, but across the northern part of the state there was a wind-swept strip in which the loss of life was heavy. Warren-co, in the western part of the state, reported a loss of twelve lives. Four met death in Madison-co, in the central portion of the state.

The death toll was greatest in central Illinois. The villages of Irvington and Plainfield, near Centralia, were badly wrecked and several persons were killed. Other fatalities in this state were in small rural communities.

Wires were blown down by the wind and telephone and telegraph companies hurried today to complete repairs. With restored communication, it was considered probable that complete reports might indicate even greater disaster than was indicated early today.

HOMES ARE LAID FLAT

ATTICA, Ind.—(United Press)—Sloan, smaller towns, were affected similarly. Buildings left standing were converted into morgues at Hedrick and automobiles were commandeered for ambulances Company I, Indiana national guard, was sent to Hedrick from Attica, on orders of Adjutant General Harry Smith in Indianapolis.

The storm doing the most damage struck this community at dusk last night. It was the second of the day, one early in the morning, having claimed the life of John Hasty, south of Williamsport. It struck the state near the Indiana-Illinois line and lifted soon after it left Williamsport. Livestock carcasses were lying in the roadways and in field and trees were laid flat across the roads blocking traffic.

Homes and business buildings at Williamsport in the path of the twister were laid flat. Hedrick and

VILLAGE IS WIPED OUT

DANVILLE, Ill. — (Associated Press)—Ten persons are known to have been killed and 41 injured, several probably fatally in a cyclone which swept across Champaign and Vermilion-coos, Illinois, and Warren-co, Indiana, late yesterday afternoon, doing damage estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

The little village of Hedrick, Ind., was almost wiped out. Four houses and two churches, comprising a group known as Pleasant View Corner, were razed and on the north of Hedrick farm, five miles west of Lebanon, Ind. three houses and many farm buildings were destroyed.

Damage to property, fruit and crops at Monett, Mo., will total $100,000, dispatches said.

TORNADO TAKES BIG PROPERTY TOLL NEAR LIMA—FLOOD ADDS TO HORROR

Water had subsided early this morning.

Damage to furniture in the basement of the Hoover-Roush store and groceries in the basement of the Alfred Schmidt store is reported.

Telephone communication between Lima and St. Marys was reestablished at 10 a. m.

Water overflowed the banks of the reservoir, inundating hundreds of acres of land.

Reports that Moulton, east of St. Marys, almost wiped out a year ago by a cyclone, had again been hit by last night's tornado, is denied. The storm passed to the north of that town, striking Glynwood and Buckland.

The tornado wreaked damage of a serious character over Logan and Moulton-tips, in the St. Marys district. A new house on the Stanley Scott farm near Buckland, was blown down. No one was injured, according to reports.

Part of the roof was raised from the Mark Brewer home in Nobletown and a large orchard of fruit trees leveled. Small buildings and fruit trees on the Hal Brewer farm were razed.

In Moulton tip a barn was blown down on the Jack Volgamott farm and a horse killed.

An old house on the Jack Volgamott, Jr., farm, used for storing grain, was demolished.

Telephone and telegraph lines are down and business is seriously hampered.

The St. Marys river was within five inches of its highest mark during the March 1913 flood.

In some instances, whole families lost all their possessions and for the present will be dependent upon the aid of others.

The Williams and Davis and Cantwell ambulances and Chief of Police T. A. Lanker and a squad of officers hurried to the Yoder territory when first reports of the tornado were received.

They were unable to give a great deal of assistance, due to the fact that roads were clogged with trees and telephone poles and other debris and the inky blackness of the night made it impossible to secure an estimate of amount of damage done.

Their further progress impeded by clogged highways, the Lima party returned home.

Thousands of trees were uprooted, orchards were leveled and the damage in the Yoder district is particularly heavy.

A barn on the John A. Jacobs farm was razed and stock was injured. An automobile was hurled a distance of more than a hundred feet and crushed by an oak tree. Jacobs was slightly injured.

A barn on the C. A. Obersole farm near Yoder was razed. Similar damage occurred on the Lew Armstrong and Steve Brown farms. A horse is reported killed on the O. F. Marshall farm, where a barn was demolished.

MISSISS CRIDERSVILLE
Cridersville was just missed by the sweep of the tornado which demolished everything in its path. The farmhouses and barns of Clell, Harve and Jerry Mowery, one-half mile north of Cridersville, were leveled by the wind.

Clell Mowery had just returned from Lima, when he noticed that a storm was gathering and decided that it would be a good policy to go to the cellar. He and his wife and their two children made their way thru the darkness to the basement.

They had no more than reached the cellar when the force of the tornado struck their house and lifted it. It was carried 50 feet and shattered. An automobile in the yard was picked up and carried over the heads of the Mowerys as they crouched in the cellar and deposited several hundred feet away on the other side of the road. Trees in the orchard were uprooted.

A little used house near the demolished house was partially destroyed. The roof was blown off and the buildings wrecked by the force of the storm.

MOVEMENT DAMAGE HEAVY
Barns and outbuildings on the Harve Mowery farm were totally destroyed. The roof of the house was torn off and the structure was moved from its foundation several feet. Chickens were killed when the hen-house was overturned.

Jerry Mowery's farm was also in the path of the storm. Barns and outbuildings were wrecked, although the house was not badly damaged.

Two miles west of Cridersville, the storm was perhaps the worst. It struck the farms of Orville Bowsher, Eldon Shappell and James Riley, totally destroying the houses and wrecking the barns and outbuildings.

Riley suffered cuts about the chest and Shappell was badly bruised about the face. Shappell's daughter Eunice suffered a broken leg when she attempted to save her baby brother.

When the force of the wind became so strong that it seemed as though the house could not withstand its force, Shappell gathered his wife and four of the children together and started them toward the cellar.

The baby had been forgotten. It was asleep upstairs. Eunice volunteered to go after the baby and her father waited at the head of the cellar steps.

She had just gotten the baby and was proceeding her father down the steps when the full force of the wind struck the house, lifting it from its foundation. The walls of the foundations buckled and the concrete struck the two, bruising the father and breaking the little girl's leg.

PROPERTY DAMAGE AT THE SHAPPELL farm is very heavy. The barns and outbuildings are wrecked beyond all hope of repair. Machinery was scattered over the yard and tin from the roofs and the corn crib was scattered all over the fields.

Three full blooded Belgian horses were either killed by the storm or were so injured that they were killed afterward by rescuers. One was a stallion valued at $2,000 and the other two were mares valued at $1,000 each. They had been imported.

A calf and another mare and colt were also killed. Trees were uprooted and clothes and bedding scattered over the yard.

Riley's house and barn were both totally destroyed and a portion of the barns on the Edward Reichelderfer farm were demolished.

For the second time the house and barns of Charles Beeler, near the Shappell farm, were damaged by a tornado. They were partially destroyed by the tornado in March, 1921.

Orville Bowsher, his wife and two children were blown about 50 feet by the wind. Bowsher was stunned, but neither he nor any member of his family were more than bruised.

When Bowsher recovered from his experience, he found their baby James, 18 months old, had been buried with them and was lying in his mother's lap uninjured.

Three men in an oil pumping station west of Buckland were slightly injured when the tornado destroyed the building in which they sought refuge.

They are Charley Mertz and Abe Fishbaugh of St. Marys, and Clay Sprague, a farm boy living in the neighborhood who had been helping them drill a well. The derrick was leveled.

Houses belonging to Alice Dingle-dine and Stanley Scott were raised from their foundations and partially destroyed. The Scott house was practically new.

A chicken was picked up by the wind and carried with such force that when it struck the Dingle-dine house the siding was broken and the chicken imbedded in the wall.

At the Scott farm the barn was destroyed and a horse was missing. Scott had not been able to discover if the horse was buried under the debris or had run away.

"If she ran away, I'll bet she hasn't stopped running yet," he said as he paused a moment while cleaning up the debris. When his house was picked up by the storm the stoves, piano and other furniture was scarcely moved out of their places.

Cattle barns on the William Goehenour farm were totally destroyed. Silos, windmills and other equipment was blown over and trees in the orchard uprooted. The house was untouched by the storm, however.

One horse was killed and another injured and several cows were badly hurt. Goehenour had no cyclone insurance on his buildings, he said.

A tenant house occupied by Virgil Crites was damaged and the barns near it were destroyed.

CAR SERVICE RESUMED
Telephone lines are down and communication between the towns is practically impossible. Workmen are repairing the damage as rapidly as possible.

The first car to go thru on the Western Ohio Interurban Lines was sent across the path of the storm at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday. The tracks had been cleared, but the overhead power wires had not been replaced.

Sufficient speed was obtained before the break was reached to carry the car over to where power could be obtained again. It was planned to send the cars thru whenever possible.

Rivers and streams are overflowing their banks, but the wind had dried the roads as the there had been no rain at all. The highest water seen since the flood of 1913 is reported by farmers along the rivers.

DAMAGE AT BUCKLAND
The barn on the Stanley Scott farm near Buckland was demolished and the house moved from its foundation.

Henry Holtzapf's barn was razed and the home of Mrs. Dingle-dine was badly damaged.

A house and barn owned by Cora Barrett and the Leslie Zerkel barn are damaged. All outbuildings on the Zerkel farm are down.

A barn was leveled on the George Foltz farm near Glynwood. The Wesley Haas barn near Buckland was demolished and Haas' home picked up and deposited in the road near by.

INSANITY CHARGED

Grace Daggon Will Be Tried in Probate Court Tuesday

An effort to commit Grace Daggon to Toledo state hospital was made Tuesday when a petition asking that her sanity be tested, was filed in probate court by Attorney J. G. Hirst, acting for relatives.

Judge Jesse H. Hamilton set a hearing for 3:30 Tuesday at St. Rita's hospital.

For the first time since she attempted to take her life at the grave of her brother, in Woodlawn, Grace ate a hearty breakfast Tuesday.

She seems to be in a better frame of mind, attendants say, and talked rather freely. She was silent on her attempt to kill herself, however, and does not seem to recall the affair.

LIMA BUILDING CODE IS TO BE COMPLETED THIS WEEK

Lima's building code after months of worry and work is to be completed this week. P. M. Huisken, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee anticipates.

The code committee is to hold what may be its final meeting Wednesday night. Recommendations made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters will be read and considered. Some of the suggestions may be incorporated into the code.

Practically all objections to the building code have been met. Huisken hopes to turn the code over to the city commission, and it will be up to that body to enact it into an ordinance.

FAMILY QUARREL LEADS TO ARREST OF HUSBAND

Dispute as to whether their small son should go to church resulted in a quarrel between Henry Uptegrove, 32, of 1415 W. Spring-st., and his wife, police say, as a consequence of which Uptegrove was arrested and charged with assault.

She filed an affidavit, charging him with assault. Uptegrove was arraigned in criminal court Tuesday and pleaded not guilty. He was released on $50 bond and time of trial was not set.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mrs. Earl Garrison, 206 Water-st., underwent an operation at St. Rita's hospital, Tuesday. Announcement from the institution is to the effect she is recovering nicely.

K. C. DANCE TO AID RELIEF FUND

Affairs Planned for Tonight in Gloom Chasing Campaign

A huge charity ball at the K. of C. home the scheduled feature of Tuesday's list of entertainments arranged to aid the Social Service Bureau in its campaign to raise funds for relief work.

More than 4,000 tickets for the event have been mailed to workers and the largest crowd which ever attended a charity event on Lima is expected to be present when the grand march starts tonight.

"Gloom Chasing Week" received a good start despite the win and rain Monday night. The Elks Minstrels and open house was the main drawing card and was well attended.

Jack Beall, chairman of the charity campaign, was the interlocutor for the minstrels and was supported by a well trained corps of end men and singers. The Elks male chorus and quartette were especially well received.

Open House at the Elks and the minstrel show will be repeated Tuesday evening. Other features are being provided at the Elks Home for the entertainment of all those who attend.

Every cent collected at both the K. of C. ball and the Elks home will be turned over to charity. Expenses are being borne by public spirited persons and city musicians are donating their services for the dance.

Cash contributions received Tuesday included $100 from H. G. ... mer, $30 from the Jewelers ... Karat Club, $10 from the Philomathian Club, $10 from the G. A. R. and a contribution from the Hodde square dance at the Lima Locomotive club Monday night.

Members of the Sorosis Club will vote their gift to the fund at a meeting to be held next week. Contributions received to date have lifted the total subscribed to more than $10,000, officers of the Bureau said Tuesday.

COLONEL LINNEMAN HERE FROM LOWER CALIFORNIA

Colonel J. C. Linneman, owner of the Norval hotel property and heavy other realty interests, is at The Norval for a few days, in from California. Speaking to The Lima News, the expert judge of horse flesh and golf distanc said:

"Southern California has escaped the depression, but it is now felt in the north, especially in San Francisco. Oil is still king in California, and the life of the wells is unknown in other fields. Coming thru Texas and the southern fields, one sees an immense amount of wildcatting and gen eral development. It would almost seem there is a danger of over-production, altho consumption is now enormous."

Mrs. Linneman did not accompany the Colonel east, but is enjoying the life at home.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT MAY RESULT FROM DEATH OF DETROIT MAN NEAR HERE

Heavy damages are to be asked of the Allen-co board of commissioners by the estate of Amos Lanning, Detroit, employee of the Dodge Motor Car company, who lost his life by drowning in a shallow ditch, eleven miles north of here, April 9.

Evidence to be used in a trial, which, it is expected the estate will have, following filing of the suit, is being collected in Allen and Putnam-counties.

Photographs have been made of the ditch, the condition of the road at the time of the accident and the overturned car. These will be submitted as evidence.

The plaintiff or administrator of the estate will contend that county commissioners are duty bound to place railings in the approach of all bridges. They will show that no railings are on either side of the bridge. It was a few feet north of the bridge where the ground gave way and Lanning was hurled in his automobile to his death.

DURR IS HELD ON TWO CHARGES

Alleged to Have Passed Worthless Check on Judge

Clouds are darkening for J. W. "Doc" Durr, 34, former proprietor of a soft drink establishment on S. Main-st., and in them towers Judge Emmett Jackson of criminal court, who not only may punish him for passing a worthless check, but also may enact the role of prosecuting witness.

Durr is alleged to have passed a worthless check for $100 on the judge in payment of a fine, assessed against him when he found guilty several weeks ago of violating the Crabbe Act. He was arrested in a liquor raid.

The scenes of his fling in the tribunal may be re-enacted, for Captain George Strick and Patrolman B. F. Watkins, who arrested Durr on S. Main-st., Tuesday at 11:55 a. m., are alleged to have found a bottle of liquor in his possession.

Durr was jailed and charges of igniting a spurious check and liquor possession lodged against him. His case awaited attention in criminal court Tuesday afternoon.

ALLEN-CO BABIES IN CONTEST FOR HONORS

Mrs. Anna Mae Fechter, public health nurse of Allen-co, is asking mothers of Allen-co to enter babies from this part of the state in the baby photo contest of the State Department of Health, closing at noon, May 1.

Babies must be one year old or less. Unmounted glass prints of cabinet size, with or without the mother, must be afforded and babies must wear as little clothing as possible, to show their points of perfection.

Pictures will be used for an exhibition at a health convention in Seattle in June and for title pages of health literature.

TAG DAY NETS $1,263; WILL BE ANNUAL EVENT

The Woman's board of managers of the District Tuberculosis hospital, southwest of the city, secured approximately $1,263, from the tag day benefit reports compiled Tuesday show.

Complete returns from Allen-co show that Mims paid $1,050 of that amount; Bluffton, $65; Delphos, $133 and Spencerville, $10.

The board has arranged to make the tag day an annual event, the Saturday before Easter being selected. Mrs. E. W. Stump, 411 S. Jamestown-av, was chairman of the committee in charge of the benefit.

GARAGE IS ENTERED

The Central garage, 134 W. High-st, was entered Monday and $6.20 taken, according to a report at police headquarters, Tuesday. The money, one five-dollar and one one-dollar bill and a dime, was secured from a cash register.

$350,000 VESSEL FOR $1,800!

That's Price Government Gets For Big Fleet in West

SPURNS PRICE MUCH LARGER

Hulls Will be Used in Shipping on Pacific Coast

(By PHILIP SINNOTT)
SEATTLE — (Special) — At a cost of approximately $21,150,000, the Emergency Fleet Corporation built but did not complete, among other vessels, 75 wooden 3,500-ton ships.

Since 1919, these have been moored, idle and unfinished, in Seattle, Portland and Alameda waters. The Shipping Board not long ago spurned an offer of $750,000 for them.

And now has sold them to the same bidder for a fifth of the original bid.

"Conditions have changed greatly since the first bid" is the explanation.

Meantime, the Barde Industrial Company, which purchased, for $1800 each, vessels costing from $225,000 to $350,000 each, is speedily arranging for a quick turnover and a scattering of the hulls originally intended for part of the wartime "bridge across the Atlantic."

In a short time, the hulls, converted into barges, will be active in coastal and inter-coastal lumber traffic.

FLEET'S PURCHASERS
L. B. Barde, resident partner of the Barde firm, J. M. Barde of Portland and New York, and Herbert Fleischhacker, San Francisco, whose power plant, financial and paper manufacturing interests are coastwise, are the purchasers of the fleet.

Organization of a pool to make the buy originated with Fleischhacker. Robert J. McGahie, San Francisco attorney, represented the buyers in the negotiations with the Shipping Board.

"Shipping concerns affiliated with our corporation will purchase a large number of the vessels," says L. B. Barde, to whom the fleet was delivered by Shipping Board agents. "These interests will use the boats in lumber barge service."

WILL SELL PART
"The others will be sold. We have a number of inquiries regarding them, and we plan a quick turnover, selling the vessels at a few thousand each."

Forty-three of the vessels just sold have been moored in Lake Union here since spring, 1919. Some of these are completed in every detail except engines. Others are partly converted into barges.

The remainder are in the Columbia River near Portland, and at Alameda, Cal.

Breaking up of the fleets is expected to start within a few weeks. Converting them into barges will furnish work for a number of idle shipyards all along the Pacific coast.

COFFEE SALESMAN FACES CHARGES IN ALIMONY SUIT

Charges that her husband, Ferdinand Kruthamp, 959 Enright-av, Price Hill, Cincinnati, left her alone when she was in a delicate condition and refuses to support her, are incorporated in a petition for alimony filed in common pleas court Monday by Eida Kruthamp.

Kruthamp is a salesman for a coffee company, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., according to his wife. His salary, she states, is $50 a week.

Because he gave her no money, she was forced to come to Lima January 14 and shelter with relatives.

Motion to consider granting Mrs. Kruthamp a temporary allowance was set for hearing April 22.

They were married in Newport, Ky., September 27. The husband is said to be a son of wealthy parents.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

Now That You're My Husband, I Hate You!

HER eyes blazed furiously at him! She—his bride of but a few hours! He made another attempt to enter the bridal chamber, but—she slammed the door in his face!

Why had she acted so strangely? Was the sin he committed great enough to warrant his bride's action? After all she was now his wife! She had no right to hate him!

What would you do if a short time after your marriage you found yourself in a strange city and suddenly discovered that the man who was your husband was everything a man should not be. Would you solve the problem as did the wife in "A Honeymoon 'On High.'"

Read this thrilling, gripping tale of a curious conflict between a newly married couple, as told in the May issue of

True Story Magazine

You will be amazed at what happened on their strange honeymoon. See how fearlessly the author lays bare the sore spot of America's homes of wealth and fashion. And remember above all that the tale is a true story—a real happening—as are all the stories in True Story Magazine.

That's what makes it the most unique publication in the magazine field today. Its stories are virtually written by its readers. Fearlessly and looking life squarely in the face they write of life's experiences—with a vividness and intensity that is made possible only because the stories are true. You will find these stories far more fascinating than ordinary magazine fiction because after all "Truth is stranger than fiction."

Read "The Dead Speaker"—the powerful story of a mother love that even death could not conquer. It will bring a tear to your eye—but it will also bring you a new realization of the most beautiful of loves—that of a mother for the child she bore. Read "Cupid Versus John Barleycorn." See how heroically a woman fought for the man she loved against this man's worst enemy—drink. You will marvel at the wife's ingenuity in routing the "demon" in an entirely new and unusual way.

Some More Real Life Stories
These are but a few of the many true stories of breathing, living men and women that you will find in the May issue. There is "A Bachelor Husband"—a novel tale of New York's famous Greenwich Village. There is "Honor Thy Father," the story of a runaway girl that you will read with quickened pulse. Read the "Whistling Girl," and see how "pucker up and whistle" kept one girl's courage up. Thrill at "The Life Story of a Bank Burglar," a truly amazing confession of a professional crook. Learn of the reward that comes to a woman with faith and devotion in "A Scrap of Paper." Go behind the scenes of the theatre in "From Out the Dark," and see how an actor is compelled by circumstances to play a part he can never forget.

There are many other remarkable human stories in the May issue which you will find worth while reading. If you are not already a reader of True Story Magazine and are not acquainted with its powerful, convincing real life stories, then get the May issue by all means.

Each story brings home a powerful truth. Shame and hypocrisy are exposed—candidly and without fear. True Story Magazine has the courage of its convictions—and its human heart appeal has won to it almost half a million of readers. Buy the May issue at your newsstand—or take advantage of the SPECIAL Offer in the coupon.

HOUSES RATTLED BY BIG GUN FIRE

Reported as Earthquakes Along California Coast

FLEET TARGET PRACTICE

Weather Conditions Cause of Long Distance Sounds

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — Weather conditions are responsible for target practice of the Pacific fleet off the Southern California coast being occasionally mistaken for earthquake shocks, according to a report made by the chamber of commerce of this city by Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, head of the meteorological bureau of the chamber.

Dr. Carpenter cited cases of January 17 and March 23, last, when vibrations caused by big gun fire rattled houses many miles inland and resulted in reports of "earthquakes" from widely scattered localities.

WIND PLAYS BIG PART
"It is a well known fact," the report continued, "that sound coming from some point may be heard more distinctly at certain times than at others. The distance at which the sound may be heard is also variable. The wind direction plays a most important part in this. If the sound-emitting body is in the direction from which the wind is coming, the sound may be heard more distinctly. It can be seen readily that sound waves are travelling in the opposite direction from which the wind is blowing or against the wind, will be broken up and deflected."

"The weather conditions during the evenings of January 17 and March 23 were practically the same. At both times an area of low pressure was centered over Nevada and Utah, with an area of high pressure off the California coast. Under these conditions Southern California would experience southerly winds shifting to westerly by way of southwesterly."

BERRINGAN FUNERAL TO BE HELD HERE FRIDAY

Funeral services for Harry Beringan, 37, who died in Youngstown, Monday, will be held Friday at 9 a. m. at St. John's Catholic church, Intermountain.

Beringan's funeral was postponed from Thursday when a telegram received here Tuesday announced that a brother, Frederick, now in California, was en route for the services. The body will reach Lima Wednesday at noon and will be taken to the home of a sister-in-law, Mrs. W. C. Linderman, 324 S. Jackson-av.

Besides Frederick, Beringan is survived by his mother and a sister, Mrs. F. Ryan, both residing in Youngstown. He was a member of the lodge of Elks and of the Knights of Columbus.

LIMA MAN PREPARES FOR EPISCOPAL RECTORSHIP
R. D. Barnhardt, Lima, of the parish of Christ church, Episcopal, will be recommended by the rector and the vestry to Bishop W. A. Leonard to receive orders for a coming rectorship.

Barnhardt has already begun his studies. The Rev. Kirk B. O'Farrell, rector of Christ church, will be absent from the city next Sunday and Barnhardt will conduct services at Christ church in the morning.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL GIRL TAKEN BY DEATH

Miss Helen May Harshman, 16, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Harshman, 404 1-2 N. Main-st., died Tuesday at 6:30 a. m., after an illness of three months from tuberculosis.

Miss Harshman formerly was a student at Central High school. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m., at the home of an uncle, David Edwin Jones, 316 W. Circular-st. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

75% OF HOUSEWIVES SOAK EVERYDAY CLOTHES

What does soaking mean to you? Three out of every four housewives always loosen the dirt by letting the clothes soak before they start washing.

With the ordinary soaps, this helped a little but there was still a lot of rubbing to be done. Rinso, an entirely new kind of soap, loosens and dissolves every bit of dirt, without the slightest injury to the clothes. Soak your clothes an hour or more in Rinso and the dirt rinses right out, all but the most stubborn places and those need only a light rubbing.

Rinso is the only soap you need for the entire regular family wash. You don't need any other soap—nor any washing powder with Rinso. Women who are using it say their clothes are spotless and last longer.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid Rinso, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid Rinso at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces, all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

AID OF TEACHERS IS SOUGHT BY GOVERNMENT IN WAR ON BARBERRY

Barberry bushes in Lima and Alleano must go.

Such is the edict of John W. Baringer, assistant government pathologist, in a letter to C. A. Arganbright, superintendent of county schools.

The office of cereal investigations expect to put on a complete and systematic survey in Alleano the coming summer. A house-to-house canvass will be made by government men in all cities and towns and each and every farmstead will be inspected in an effort to locate rust susceptible barberries.

Names of teachers of the county have been asked by the government and it is planned to use their efforts in eradicating barberry bushes. Investigation has shown with the eradication of these bushes, black stem rust in small grains may be done away with.

Farmers are asked to lend their aid and interest in the matter and assist in eradicating these bushes, which aid in the destruction of small grains; investigation has shown.

ROAD PROGRAM IS APPROVED

Committee Named to Work Out Details in County

Indorsement of the system of county and township roads, being worked out by the county commissioners and County Surveyor Walter R. Toy, was given unanimously by the Alleano Road Council Monday night.

Details for organization of the systems are practically complete. Trustees from all but Richland-tp consulted with the commissioners and designated which roads they will take over.

A county road program committee named Monday night will meet with four groups of trustees, each group representing three townships.

Their report will be laid before the county commissioners.

G. F. Rudisill, of the Ohio Good Roads association, addressed the meeting, praising the plan to divide the roads into township and county programs.

Allen-co, he said, has 340 miles of roads. About 100 miles, he said, is entitled to state and federal aid. If the taxpayers of the county do not get this mileage in a reasonable time, they should seek to find the responsible persons.

Rudisill urged that road activities be centered and one unit at a time be thoroughly improved.

County program committee appointed are: C. C. Heller, chairman, Beaverdam; Henry Gratz, Bluffton; Charles Wisner, Spencerville; J. C. Jones, Gomer; A. W. East, Elida.

PREACHER TO WALK FROM FRISCO TO WASHINGTON TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO — Rev. W. F. Damewood, a local minister, declared today he would start Thursday for Washington, D. C., about the minister said he expected to go blind soon and that he wanted to see a president while he could.

The minister, who is past 60, will take about 75 pounds of luggage with him, which he said he would haul in a small wagon. He will start with $5 in cash.

LONGWORTH MAY BE MADE CHIEF

Expected to Succeed Mondell as G. O. P. House Leader

WASHINGTON—(United Press) —Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, loomed up on the political horizon today as the next Republican leader of the house, as the succeeding Representative Mondell of Wyoming, candidate for the senate.

Longworth's successful participation in the fight to increase the enlisted personnel of the navy from 67,000 as proposed by the appropriations committee to $6,000 as decided by the house, again has focused attention on him as the next leader.

Before Longworth got into the fight, it appeared as if the small navy advocates would win by a safe majority. Following a conference with Harding, Longworth went back to the house and literally took off his coat in behalf of a bigger navy.

Friends of Longworth today were recalling that Mondell and Harding do not always agree and that they differ frequently on questions of policy, while Longworth is close to the president and enjoys his intimate personal and political friendship.

The Ohioan has not wholly abandoned thought of becoming a candidate for the senate, but unless there is a pre-primary convention before June 10, when the time expires to file declarations of intentions, he will announce for re-election. In the event there is a convention and he fails to get the "nomination," he will seek the house seat anyhow.

VET GETS CHANCE

Judge Becker Suspends Sentence — Orders Boy to Work

Harold Walker, 20, Canadian war veteran, who went over the top scathed more than 5 times in France, was sentenced Tuesday to 30 days in Toledo Workhouse, by Judge Fred C. Becker, in common pleas court. Sentence was suspended on condition that Walker obtain work.

Walker pleaded guilty to robbing Schaefer & Crane's general store in Lafayette, early in January. He was arrested January 9, by Detectives Willis Kijpker and Ross Landfair, of the police department. He was charged with stealing a few pennies, some cigarettes and a cheap watch, total value $19.

The story told by Walker, showed that aside from his service in the army the boy had never had a real home. He was sent to an orphan's home at an early age, and was farmed out here and there. He only had four years of schooling, he said. When 14 he enlisted in an overseas battalion in London, Ontario. In France he fought on the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Ypres and a score of other battles with the "Canucks."

"I never was in trouble before," he told Judge Becker. "I was out of work and hungry. The door was unlocked."

Walker expressed a desire to work on a farm.

W. O. RAILWAY WILL NOT ADOPT EASTERN TIME; NO CHANGES IN SCHEDULE

There will be no spring changes in the schedule of Western Ohio interurban cars, F. D. Carpenter, manager of the lines, said Monday.

"It is possible that there will be some changes later in the year but at the present time we do not contemplate adopting eastern time," Carpenter said.

Only a few of the cities on the Western Ohio and affiliated lines are operating on eastern time, it is said, and there will be no change unless it is absolutely necessary, Carpenter asserted.

The Ohio Electric will go on daylight saving schedules April 30. This was forced because of connections in Toledo and Central Ohio cities where eastern time is being used, Superintendent Mason said.

COLUMBUS BANK IS ROBBED

Bandits Escape With $6,000—Second Holdup in 6 Months

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press) —Three armed negroes, one of them masked, this morning entered the Steelton branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank in South Parsons-av and held up Cashier W. H. Todd, escaping with between $5,000 and $6,000.

According to Cashier Todd, one of the negroes stuck a revolver thru the window of his case, forcing him to throw up his hands, while the other two negroes grabbed the available money. The three negroes then backed out of the bank, got into a sedan automobile and drove rapidly away.

This was the second time in six months that the Steelton branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank has been held up. On December 21, a band of bandits who are now serving sentences in the Ohio penitentiary, robbed the bank of $7,000 in cash and securities.

Until an accurate check of securities is made, bank officials said they could not say exactly how much was obtained in today's robbery but they said the amount probably would be between $5,000 and $6,000.

VIOLATORS OF FISH LAW ARE WARNED BY CHERRY

Wilbur Cherry, deputy state game protector, is making war on anglers who are hooking crappies less than six inches in length, which is in violation of the state law.

Forty may be taken in one day. The regulation in regard to bass is that no fish under eleven inches may be taken from the waters and only one may be caught in one day.

Cherry says the law is being broken by fishermen at the state hospital reservoir and at Lexington, Lakeview and Indian Lake fishing grounds.

MRS. BEGGS DIES

Mrs. Ollie Beggs, 40, wife of Thomas W. Beggs, 516 Pennsylvania-ave, died Monday at her home, after an illness of nine days from congestion of the brain. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artis Burgess and was born in West Cairo. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

POOL ROOMS TO BE REGULATED

City Commission Proposes Stringent Measure for Amusement

Stringent regulation of billiard and poolrooms and bowling alleys and various other forms of business is provided for in a licensing ordinance which was given its first reading before the city commission, Monday night.

Passage of the act was not forced Monday, in order to give the public an opportunity to discuss the measure. It is designed to become effective May 1, and will replace all other licensing measures. Under its provisions, all licenses are to expire April 30 of each year.

No person not of good character, or who has been convicted of a felony or is not an American citizen will be issued license to operate a poolroom, billiard parlor or bowling alley.

The ordinance is not specific as to whether alleys in private clubs are to be hit by the restrictions.

ASKS STREET PAVING
Representations were made to the commission by N. Elizabeth-st residents, asking that their street be paved to afford better fire protection.

Under present conditions fire apparatus cannot get farther north than Murphy-st. It is stated.

Prior to going out of office, the old city council granted a petition to pave Elizabeth-st, from Murphy-st, to O'Connor-av.

Petitions to pave Michael-av from Pine-st to Calumet-av and College-av, Rice to Hazel-av, were turned over to the city manager.

Legislation was ordered prepared for closing the first alley east of Tanner-av, between Vine-st, and the Erie tracks.

Notes worth $30,000 were authorized to pay the cost of improvements in Grand-av, from West-st to Met-calf-st.

Request from O. E. McPherson that permission be granted for the holding of I. W. W. meetings was turned down. The commissioners and city manager are opposed to the holding of such meetings in Lima.

WHAT'S AHEAD OF US?

YOU, like everyone else in the country, are wondering:

FIRST—When business gets going good again how will times compare with the great boom of 1919?

SECOND—What standard of living lies in store for the average American?

On every hand you hear people saying, "I guess we can't expect times ever to get as good again as they were during the silk-shirt days of the war boom."

Developments in the iron and steel industry suggest that this may be the wrong view. For instance:

DURING March the country produced 2,034,794 tons of pig iron, or roughly four-fifths as much as in March, 1913, which was a typical month of normal "good times."

Before the war it was customary for pig iron output to increase 1,000,000 tons a year to take care of the normal growth of the country's needs.

On this basis, if the climb had continued normally and there hadn't been a war, pig iron production in March, 1922, would have been 3,235,000 tons, which compares with 3,090,243 tons produced in March, 1919, during the boom.

In other words, pig iron output during the war boom was no larger than the normal, natural growth.

Pig iron production, by the way, is one of the two barometers of general business. The other is wheat.

HOW about the future standard of living?

Nearly everyone has learned from bitter experience that prices and dollars have very little to do with it. The real standard of living is the amount of commodities you are able to buy with your money.

Furthermore, America can buy only in proportion to what it produces.

If the farmers raise 106,000,000 bushels of wheat a year, there's only one bushel for each of us. But we have three bushels apiece if they raise 318,000,000 bushels.

Similarly, if the men who make autos produce 106,000,000 cars a year, there's a car for each of us. If only 1,060,000 cars are produced a year there's only a car for each 100 persons.

The future standard of living will depend largely on how much we Americans produce.

To pay the interest on our national debt would take yearly only one-thirty-second of the American people's total income in 1913.

BUILDING CHARACTER

IT was a timely talk, that given Monday by the Rev. G. M. Baumgardner, before the Rotary club, in a luncheon meeting.

The fact that a good character is one of the best assets that can be possessed by men or women, is as true now as it was in the beginning of time, when communities of people were established.

A truism was mentioned by the minister when he said that when wealth is lost, nothing is lost; when health is lost, something is lost, but when character is lost, everything is lost. Character building, so carefully begun in youth by parents, school instructors and pastors in religious training in directing the lives of the young, too often are lessons lost when the children become men and women.

It is expected that every man and woman maintain a good character. No particular credit is due anyone for so living as to make their life a monument for honor, for sobriety and honesty. It is a standard of requirement. Quite too often, also, there is apparent in the minds of many persons an idea that while apparently living lives that are above reproach, they may secretly practice things that will not bear the light of day—and get away with it.

There never was a more pitifully mistaken idea. "Be sure your sins will find you out." A true saying, too often forgotten. "The way of the transgressor is hard" and "the wages of sin is death." Also true. There is no escape.

Modern American ideals are doing more and more for the upbuilding of the character of mankind. There will always be the slacker and those who are averse to lifting themselves to a fixed standard. Rev. Baumgardner uttered a truth undeniable when he said that character building is the most important part of the development of men and women today.

LIMA'S CITY PARKS

THIS city is fortunate in the possession of at least two well equipped public parks as playgrounds for children. While there should be more places, it is gratifying indeed that the welfare of the children and their elders as well, has not been altogether overlooked.

The parks are open for the season. Everything has been placed in good condition and hundreds thronged the acres on Easter Sunday. As the days pass, the parks will become more and more attractive and inviting. The zoo in Faurot park is a constant source of pleasure for the children. The wading pool is another point of interest in both places, but it is too early for their use.

Altho the public playgrounds are well equipped, other things are needed. The most important of all these, in both parks, is a swimming pool, where the children of the city may be afforded opportunity to acquire a knowledge of how best to take care of themselves in the water and at the same time enjoy a healthful and desirable pastime.

Attention has been directed, repeatedly, to the need of public swimming pools, as an addition to the opportunities for summer play by the city's kiddies, but no steps have been taken with that end in view. If the city has not the required amount of money to provide swimming pools, it is believed there are a sufficient number of organizations and individuals in Lima who would be glad of the chance to aid.

Why not give them the opportunity?

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
FIGHT MOSQUITOES

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

A mosquito bite is a trivial thing. We are all bitten by mosquitoes hundreds of times during the summer. A bite doesn't bother much, tho it itches severely for a few minutes. But if left alone will cease to trouble after a short time.

But did you ever stop to realize that every time you are bitten you take the chance of being infected with malaria?

Malaria is spread only by the mosquito. Eliminate mosquitoes and you get rid of malaria.

Few of the troubles called malaria by most people are really of malarial origin. They are usually due for the most part to bad digestion, or bad elimination thru skin, kidneys or bowels.

Malaria itself is due to an invasion of the blood by a tiny germ more complex than the bacteria which cause most of our infectious diseases. It goes thru several stages of development something like those of a frog or butterfly. It is an organism which cannot live and multiply in the human blood alone, but must spend some of its existence outside of the human body.

While in the blood it lives within the corpuscles themselves. At a certain stage, it frees itself and swims about in the blood. When this occurs, the patient has fever and chills with all the symptoms of true ma-

FORWARD!

I will not say it's a cruel world
Because it's been so to me,
I'll keep my banner of hope unfurled

For all of the world to see;
If I've been plunged in the blackest night

Shall I whimper and whine and wail?
Shall I care deny there is any light,
Because all my beacons fail?

Because I have lost in the fight
With fate
Shall I sing in a moaning strain?
Because I have found the odds too great

Shall I say that the fight is vain?
No, I shall learn by my own defeat
From the sorrow that comes to me,
To sing how life may be brave and sweet

In the glory of victory!
If I've been down in the depths of hell
With a damned and a broken clan,
I still shall carol that all is well
With the conquering soul of man;

I shall not say it's a cruel world
Because it has mastered me,
But I'll keep the banner of hope unfurled
For all of the world to see.

The Right of Way to Tire Leadership

A year or so ago, the American public placed the leadership of the tire business in the hands of the men who make U. S. Royal Cords

THE first Royal Cord Tires were made and sold in 1916. No cut-and-dried story could possibly account for their position of command today—earned in a short six years.

It mostly comes down to the car-owner as an out and out human being. Forget him as a mere tire customer and consider him as a personality. With an inborn instinct for quality. With a pride in demonstrating his quality beliefs.

How many tire manufacturers, would you say, have even guessed that American car-owners were shifting so fast to better tires?

Certainly U. S. Royal Cords have proved this fundamental thing—

For every low-grade tire made there is arising some motorist with a fine, human indifference for it.

He and his kind have become out and out loyalists of Royal Cord Tires—as representing the highest expression of their demands.

The makers of United States Tires urge upon everybody—manufacturer and dealer alike—a new kind of competition.

Let us compete for more and more public confidence.

Let us compete for higher and higher quality.

Let us compete for still more dependable public service.

United States Tires are Good Tires

Multiply this man by a million or more. Then sit down and weigh his tremendous deciding influence.

Today, for the production of U. S. Tires, there is erected and operating the largest group of tire factories in the world.

The men who make Royal Cords are quality workers and quality merchandisers.

Their spirit of leadership is the spirit of constancy—faithfulness—a simple, understandable policy.

U. S. Royal Cords have come to be the measure of value of all automobile tires.

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER

John Piening First Witness in Murder Case

CHARLES PIENING ACCUSED

Jury Chosen Quickly to Try Minister Man

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — John B. Piening, brother of the accused murderer of Rev. A. J. Schwietermann, Minister, Catholic priest, was the first witness called to the stand in common pleas court here this morning, when taking of testimony begun in the case of the State of Ohio against Charles Piening.

The brother was still on the stand at the noon hour when recess was taken. He related the circumstances surrounding the death of Father Schwietermann the night of February 14, at the home of his brother, under questioning by Prosecuting Attorney Carl Timmermeister and his assistant, L. C. Brodbeck.

Piening, in his rage when John appeared at his home, shot at his brother with a revolver. A few minutes later, Father Schwietermann, who had been called to the home of Charles Piening, was mortally wounded by a load of shot from a gun in the hands of the accused man.

In their statements to the jury, the attorneys for the prosecution stated they would seek to prove Piening guilty of murder in a malicious and premeditated manner, charging that he sought $50 from Father Schwietermann on the Sunday previous and was told to return later.

R. E. Layton, attorney for Piening in his statement to the jury, admitted that the priest was mortally wounded in the home of the accused, but that it was due to accidental circumstances developing from an alleged unbalanced mental condition under which the accused was alleged to have been laboring. Attorney for the defense will seek a verdict for a lesser crime than that of first-degree murder.

Impaneling of a jury was completed late Monday afternoon. The jury is composed of Roger Mertz, J. H. Miller, Homer Heslet and Edwin Ahe of Wapakoneta; Mrs. Mollie Noble, Salem-tp; Jacob Lapole, St. Johns;

S. W. Brackney, Duchouquet-tp; Mrs. Eva Leffel, Salem-tp; Chas. E. Sch. Duchouquet-tp; Emanuel Wisswasser, Salem-tp; Levi Rinehart, Duchouquet-tp; Elmer Wilcox, Union-tp.

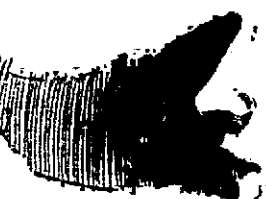

CHRIS MEYER DIES
ST. MARYS — Christian H. Meyer, 74, died at his home here from cancer of the stomach. Survived by his widow and several children.

Conspicuous Nose pores

—grow larger if neglected

TO reduce enlarged nose pores, use this special treatment:
Wring a soft cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stopping at once if your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

Begin this treatment tonight. Within a week or ten days you will notice a marked improvement. The Andrew Jergens Company.

OUR FIRST YEAR

—BY A BRIDE—

WHO TEACHES FLAPPERS?

START THIS TODAY

The bride and her five girl friends are expressing their opinions on love and marriage. The bride and her husband are trying to live up to a pact under which they maintain individual freedom. Bonny, the flapper, has just quoted the love theories of George Bradshaw, a 42-year-old divorcee court graduate.

"I've an idea that George Bradshaw knows more about what he calls 'love' than all of us put together," said Jeanne Allison. "I've also an idea that he doesn't tell it all to Bonny."

"It's plain that we girls have got to do something to counteract George's instructions," suggested Mary Smith.

"Girls, Mary's right! If Bonny Teario ever should make any mistakes, we'd have her sins on our own souls!"

"One can never tell when Jeanne is joking and when she is abominably sarcastic."

"Stop giggling, Bonny! Get ready, girls! Each in her turn, instruct the infant! You begin, Mary!"

"Bonny! Thank you! I say again and it's all I'm going to say, that a girl of your age ought not to discuss love with men. Especially not with old men. Only with women. And when you're bothered, come to me, dear!"

"Thank you, old dear!" murmured Bonny. Then with sudden alarm, "But—then—I'd turn out just like you! Just like all of you! And the boys say that the reason I'm so interesting is because I'm not like other girls!"

"Sounds familiar! We've all heard that, Bonny!" Jeanne shrugged a shoulder scornfully.

"Listen, all of you! If I don't talk about love with the men, they'll never take me anywhere! I couldn't keep a man from me if I didn't chatter sentiment to him!"

"You certainly ought to know! You're called the most popular flapper in this end of town," mourned Mary Smith.

Conversation buzzed while I changed the plates. Evidently my luncheon, if informal, was no failure.

"We girls have discovered a big fact, Peg!" whispered Mary. She was helping me in the pantry to serve the sweet.

"What is it?"

"We've found why flappers act as they do!"

"Well, why do they?"

"They will not listen to women. Only to men. They side-step all that teachers, mothers, sisters tell them. And isn't it awful!"

"Girls learned about love from older women for centuries! I replied as I arranged my beautiful new Wedgewood cups on a tray. "Isn't it time they had the other side?"

"Well! If Bonny Teario is an example of what men can do when they educate their sweethearts—the remainder of Mary's sarcasm was lost as the pantry door swung behind me.

As soon as she had

As soon as she and I had taken our places at the table, the young person who had occasioned our discussion demanded:

"Peg! The other girls have finished their lessons on love. And they've nearly finished me, too. It's your turn now. What are you going to advise poor me?"

I couldn't answer Bonny immediately. I felt awfully solemn. It seemed to me that beneath our foolery ran a vein of the serious.

It occurred to me that women everywhere are asking what they can do to make love last longer;

Mrs. L. Kunkle, of Toledo, is the guest of Mrs. A. E. Gale, of Gale Terrace.

Mrs. J. Boyd Douglas, of W. Spring-st., welcomed the members of the Twentieth Century club at her home, Monday evening. Responses to roll call were in the form of quotations from the Bible and Mrs. A. A. Dole gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the "Book of Joshua."

Mrs. Walter Ritchie, N. Jameson-ave., will entertain the club next Monday.

What promises to be an attractive social function at the Elks' Home this week will be the annual benefit dance to be given Wednesday evening by the Women's Board of Managers of the City hospital. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

Honoring Mrs. Mack Altshul (Lena Rubin) at a recent bride, members of the Afternoon Bridge club entertained with a prettily appointed 5 o'clock tea at the Hotel Norval, Monday. Jonquils and sweet peas were attractively combined in forming the decorations and a color scheme of yellow and lavender prevailed. The honor guest was presented with a pretty gift.

Places were arranged for Mrs. Altshul, Mrs. Francis Durbin, Mrs. Tanner Maple, Mrs. M. M. Miltiken, Mrs. Bert Sarber, Mrs. V. H. Hay, Mrs. Charles Hoover, Mrs. Lloyd Apples, Mrs. Paul Stuber, Mrs. H. M. Crawford, Miss Edith Simpson and Miss Helen Bower.

Mrs. Perry Roeder, of S. Scott-st., will entertain the Primrose club, Wednesday afternoon. The club will reorganize at this time.

what they can do to be happy when love falls.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

WEST with a certain young man a while and I met another. He said he cared for me and asserted I would not go with him because I loved the first one. The second wrote some letters and forced the first's name upon them and sent them to me. They were disgraceful. When I showed them to the boy I was "going with" he, of course, denied writing them. Then the letters began to go to both of us. We parted, but I never knew until lately, who wrote them. I still love him. He is asked him to write the first boy and tell him he was sorry for it. He told me he was sorry since he had failed to win my love. He became sorry and said he would not write and tell him and that if I wanted to, I could "What do you think I should do? I don't want the first to think I was doing all that mischief, because I love for him. My two brothers think I should write to him. PEGGY BLONDIE."

It is, indeed, very unfortunate that any boy would be so unprincipled as to resort to unfair and deceitful methods in attempting to win the love of any girl.

This boy was very ungentlemanly and contemptible in daring to write an unpleasant note to you and having the audacity to sign the name of another. He should be made to apologize to you boy friend for his cowardly and shameful act.

The thing for you to do is to plan some method by which you can get both of the boys together. Insist upon this boy confessing to your friend exactly what he did and how he was responsible for the breaking up of your friendship. Tell the first that you value his friendship and that you deeply regret the misunderstanding and unfortunate circumstance.

Dear Miss Smart:

I burned the color out of a blue charmeuse dress. It is not soiled, but just discolored on the shoulder. Can you tell me how I can restore it to its natural color?

E. L. K.

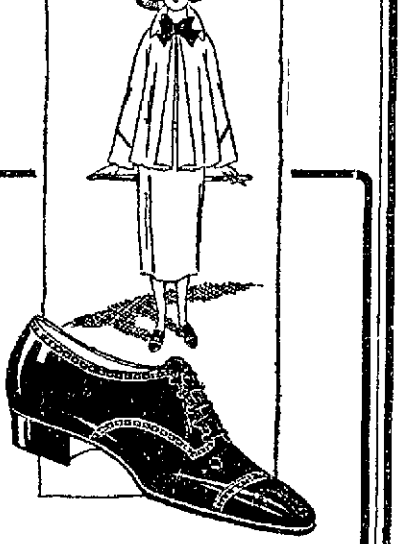

I would really know of nothing you could do except to dye the entire frock a darker color. It would be a wise plan for you to take the dress to a professional dyer. He could advise you best what step would be the most satisfactory and successful.

Dear Miss Smart:

Can you tell me any sure remedy to cure soft warts?

RAMPAGING ROSE

Wind a little cotton on the end of a toothpick. Dip the cotton in nitric acid and apply to the wart. Be careful not to get the acid on the skin around the wart.

The Boy Who Started to Town With a Hundred Dollars

The advice they gave him for getting on in the world was simple and familiar enough: "Keep what you have, and build on it. Be careful what you do and it will grow into more."

It's a safe rule—with money or health, but a good many overlook the rule with health, until they have lost what they had. Then it's hard to get a new supply.

Postum is a splendid help in saving health from the very common losses through the drug elements of tea and coffee—whose effects on the nervous system any doctor can tell you.

Thousands of people who think it wise to be as careful of their health as they are of their dollars are users of Postum. They find this famous cereal beverage a delightful drink with any meal, and it's free from any disturbing element.

You can begin with Postum today, with an order to your grocer. The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow. "Save what you have, and build on it," is sound policy for everybody.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

IF WINTER COMES

By A. S. M. HUTCHINSON

CHAPTER IV

Hagood had said to his friend of the effect on Sabre of Mabel's action against him. He had said, "The roof's fallen in on him." And that had been Sabre's own belief. But it was not so. There are degrees of calamity. Dumbfounded, stunned, aghast, Sabre would not have believed that conspiracy against him of all the powers of his plight. They had shot their bolt. He was stricken again.

But they had not shot their bolt. The roof had not yet fallen on him. The timbers of the superstructure had but bent and cracked and groaned.

Their bolt was shot, the roof crashed in, the four sides of his world entered and collapsed upon him, with the words spoken to Sabre by that man who approached and took him aside while he stood to take leave of Hagood.

The man said, "I daresay you know me by sight, Mr. Sabre. I'm the coroner's officer at Tidborough. You're rather wanted down there. The fact is that young woman that's been living with you's been found dead."

Sabre's face took then the strange and awful hue that Hagood had marked upon it.

"Found dead? Found dead? Where?"

"In your house, Mr. Sabre. And her baby, dead with her."

"Found dead? Found dead? Effie? And her baby? Found dead? Oh, dear God. . . Catch hold of my arm a minute. All right, let me go. Found dead? What do you mean, found dead?"

"There's to be an inquest tomorrow. That's what you're wanted for."

"Inquest? Inquest?" Sabre's speech was thick. He knew it was thick. His tongue felt enormously too big for his mouth. He could not control it properly. He felt that all his limbs and members were swollen and ponderous and out of his control.

"Inquest? Found dead? Inquest? Found dead? God, God, can't you tell me something?"

The man said, "I say that's for the coroner. And least you say best, sir, if you understand me. Looks as if the young woman took poison. Oxalic acid."

"Oxalic acid?"

"They went to the cab."

II

In the morning, in the mortuary adjoining the coroner's court, his mind suddenly and with shock most terrible made contact with the calamity it had pursued.

In the mortuary . . .

When he arrived and alighted from his cab he found a small crowd of persons assembled about the yard of the court. Someone said, "There he is!" Someone said, "That's him!" A kind of threatening murmur went up from the people. What was the matter? What were they looking at? He seemed to be wedged among a mass of dark and rather heavily faces breathing close to his own. He could not get on. He was being pushed. He was caused to stagger. He said, "Look out, I've got a game leg!" That threatening sort of murmur arose more loudly in answer to his words. Someone somewhere threw a piece of orange peel at someone. It almost hit his face. What was up? What were they all doing?

At the door of the court Sabre looked across to where on the other side of the yard some men were shuffling out of a detached building. The coroner's officer said, "Jury. They've been viewing the corpse."

"Corpses!" The rough word stabbed thru his numbness. He thought, "Corpses! Viewing the corpse!"

Some papers. "That you may perhaps discover," he remarked drily. The court tittered.

A man was seated not far from the hunchback rose and bowed and said, "I am watching the interests of Mrs. Sabre."

Sabre started. Mrs. Sabre! Mabel! The hunchback sprang to his feet and jerked a bow. "I represent Mr. Bright, the father of the deceased."

CHAPTER V

Hagood said:

"Did I say to you last time, after that Brighton business, that the man had crashed, that the roof had fallen in on him? Eh, man, sitting on his bed there at Brighton and gibbering at me, Sabre was a whole man, a sane man; he was a fortunate and happy man, compared with this that I saw come at him down at Tidborough yesterday."

"By Jove, old man, how I'm ever going to tell you. That poor chap in there batted by those fiends . . . By Jove . . . but this business, old Sabre up in that witness box with his face in a knot and stammering 'Look here—Look here—'; that was absolutely all he ever said; he never could get any further—old Sabre going thru that, and the sole for tearing the inside out of him and throwing it in his face, and that treble-dead Iscariot Twynning prompting the solicitor and egging him on, with his beastly spite running like venom out of the corners of his mouth—I tell you my eyes felt like two boiled gooseberries in my head; boiled red hot; and a red-hot potato stuck in my throat, stuck tight. I tell you . . ."

"Look here, get the hang of the thing. Get a bearing on some of these people. There was the coroner getting off his preamble. Great big pudding of a chap, the coroner. Face like a three-parts deflated football. There was old Bright, the girl's father, smoldering like inside the door of a banked-up furnace. There was Mr. Iscariot Twynning with his face like a stab—in the back—and his mouth on his face like a scar. There was this solicitor chap next him, with his hump, with his hair like a mane, and a head like a house, and a mouth like a cave. He'd a great big red tongue, about a yard long, like a retriever's, and a great long forefinger with about five joints in it that he waggled when he was cross-examined and shot out when he was incriminating like the front nine inches of a snake. ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

CHOCOLATE MOUNTAIN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

ONE OF THE TWO MEN AT THE HEAD OF THE TABLE STARTED TO HIS FEET.

Corpses! Effie! He made a movement in that direction.

The man said, "Yes, perhaps you'd better."

He was against a glass screen, misty with breaths of those who had stared and peered thru it. The policeman wiped his sleeve across the glass. "There you are."

Ah, insupportable! This was Effie. This was Bright Effie. This was that jolly little Effie of the old, million-year-old days. This! This!

She lay on a slab inclined towards the glass. She was swathed about in ceremonies. Only her face was visible. Within the hollow of her arm reposed a little shape, all swathed. She had brought it into the world. She had removed it from the world that would have nothing of it. She had brought a thousand smiles into the world, but she had given offense to the world and the offended world had thrown back her smiles and she now had expressed her contrition to the world. This was her contrition that she lay here for men to breathe upon the glass, and stare, and rub away the dimness with their sleeves, and breathe, and stare again.

Oh, insupportable calamity! Oh, tragedy beyond support! He thought of her as oft, and again he had seen her—those laughing lips, those shining eyes. He thought of her alone when he had left her, planning and preparing this frightful dissolution of her body and her soul. He thought of her in torment of inward fire by that which had blistered her poor lips.

A very terrible groan was broken out of him.

They took him along.

III

The court was jammed. In two-thirds of its space were crowded benches. At the upper end of the room was a dais, a schoolmaster's desk. Flanking it on one hand were forms occupied by the men Sabre had seen shuffling out of the mortuary. On the other hand a second dais was a long table at which men were seated on the side looking toward the dais. Two men sat also at the head of this table, facing the jury. As Sabre entered they were in deep conversation with a stunted, hunchbacked man who sat next them at the corner.

Every face in the room turned towards the door as Sabre entered. They might have belonged to a single body and they appeared to have a single expression and a single thought; a dark and forbidding expression and a thought dark and hostile. There was again that murmur that had greeted him when he stepped from the cab. At the sight of him one of the twelve men at the head of the table started to his feet. A very big man, and with a very big and massive face and terrific eyes who started up and raised clenched fists and had his jaws working. Old Bright, his companion at the head of the table restrained him and drew him down again. A tall, spare, dark man with a thin mouth in a deeply lined face—Twynning.

From a door behind the central dais a large, stout man entered and took his seat. Whispers about the court said, "Coroner." Someone bawled "Silence."

The coroner fiddled with some papers, put pince-nez on his nose and stared about the court. He had a big, fat face. He stared about. "Is the witness Sabre in attendance?"

The coroner's officer said, "Yes, sir."

The coroner looked at him. "Are you legally represented?"

He said, "Represented? No. Why should I be represented?"

The coroner turned to examine

some papers. "That you may perhaps discover," he remarked drily. The court tittered.

A man was seated not far from the hunchback rose and bowed and said, "I am watching the interests of Mrs. Sabre."

Sabre started. Mrs. Sabre! Mabel! The hunchback sprang to his feet and jerked a bow. "I represent Mr. Bright, the father of the deceased."

"Did I say to you last time, after that Brighton business, that the man had crashed, that the roof had fallen in on him? Eh, man, sitting on his bed there at Brighton and gibbering at me, Sabre was a whole man, a sane man; he was a fortunate and happy man, compared with this that I saw come at him down at Tidborough yesterday."

"By Jove, old man, how I'm ever going to tell you. That poor chap in there batted by those fiends . . . By Jove . . . but this business, old Sabre up in that witness box with his face in a knot and stammering 'Look here—Look here—'; that was absolutely all he ever said; he never could get any further—old Sabre going thru that, and the sole for tearing the inside out of him and throwing it in his face, and that treble-dead Iscariot Twynning prompting the solicitor and egging him on, with his beastly spite running like venom out of the corners of his mouth—I tell you my eyes felt like two boiled gooseberries in my head; boiled red hot; and a red-hot potato stuck in my throat, stuck tight. I tell you . . ."

"Look here, get the hang of the thing. Get a bearing on some of these people. There was the coroner getting off his preamble. Great big pudding of a chap, the coroner. Face like a three-parts deflated football. There was old Bright, the girl's father, smoldering like inside the door of a banked-up furnace. There was Mr. Iscariot Twynning with his face like a stab—in the back—and his mouth on his face like a scar. There was this solicitor chap next him, with his hump, with his hair like a mane, and a head like a house, and a mouth like a cave. He'd a great big red tongue, about a yard long, like a retriever's, and a great long forefinger with about five joints in it that he waggled when he was cross-examined and shot out when he was incriminating like the front nine inches of a snake. CHOCOLATE MOUNTAIN

ONE OF THE TWO MEN AT THE HEAD OF THE TABLE STARTED TO HIS FEET.

Corpses! Effie! He made a movement in that direction.

The man said, "Yes, perhaps you'd better."

He was against a glass screen, misty with breaths of those who had stared and peered thru it. The policeman wiped his sleeve across the glass. "There you are."

Ah, insupportable! This was Effie. This was Bright Effie. This was that jolly little Effie of the old, million-year-old days. This! This!

She lay on a slab inclined towards the glass. She was swathed about in ceremonies. Only her face was visible. Within the hollow of her arm reposed a little shape, all swathed. She had brought it into the world. She had removed it from the world that would have nothing of it. She had brought a thousand smiles into the world, but she had given offense to the world and the offended world had thrown back her smiles and she now had expressed her contrition to the world. This was her contrition that she lay here for men to breathe upon the glass, and stare, and rub away the dimness with their sleeves, and breathe, and stare again.

Oh, insupportable calamity! Oh, tragedy beyond support! He thought of her as oft, and again he had seen her—those laughing lips, those shining eyes. He thought of her alone when he had left her, planning and preparing this frightful dissolution of her body and her soul. He thought of her in torment of inward fire by that which had blistered her poor lips.

A very terrible groan was broken out of him.

They took him along.

The court was jammed. In two-thirds of its space were crowded benches. At the upper end of the room was a dais, a schoolmaster's desk. Flanking it on one hand were forms occupied by the men Sabre had seen shuffling out of the mortuary. On the other hand a second dais was a long table at which men were seated on the side looking toward the dais. Two men sat also at the head of this table, facing the jury. ## GOOD MANNERS ARE BEING TAUGHT BY MOVIES

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
ETIQUETTE is now to be taught by the movies. How to receive a guest, to enter and leave a room, how and when to stand and sit will be shown in the next Urban Movie Chat.

Lessons in etiquette are to be regular features of the chats. The instructor is Miss Marguerite Walz, of Philadelphia, reported an authority on the subject.

One lesson in the near future will show how a girl should walk across the street with a man, how she should help her board a street car and how she should sit—provided, of course, that in a previous lesson some man has learned to surrender his seat.

This sounds very interesting. Properly will be graphically demonstrated. Many little family discussions will follow visits to the movies.

Orpheum Summer Season Opened

DESPITE the unrelenting weather conditions of Monday evening, a decidedly good-sized audience turned out to welcome Raynor Lehr and his company, who presented at the Orpheum the opening attraction of the summer stock season.

The summer stock season for an indefinite period, presenting to Orpheum patrons and city attractions as they may desire. He leaves it to the people, who tell him just what they want.

A distinct novelty is being introduced, whereby a combination of stock changes, comedies, etc., is given along with a musical entertainment by the well-known Right Now Quartette, chorus, appearances, all a color and dance numbers.

"Lena River" that old classic of melodramatic days, was chosen as the initial presentation and at the performance on Monday pleased much. Both the Mr. Lehr's private class, impersonations, while the heroine and all the others in the cast were excellent.

Faurot—"Abraham Lincoln"

THE famous play about Abraham Lincoln which was made by John Dinkwater, produced by William Harris, Jr., with the central character enacted by Frank McIlvann will come to the Faurot Opera House, Thursday evening, April 20th. Mr. Harris will send in addition to Mr. McIlvann the only company to appear in "Abraham Lincoln" since the first appearance in America. Each individual part is interpreted for its value historically and as entertainment. In writing "Abraham Lincoln" Dinkwater has established the fact that a great and inspiring play can be entertaining, even to the more than famous "tired business man". Producing managers long fought shy of such drama because they feared that there was no large public for them. However, when the play is done sincerely and yet with a genuine sense of the theatre, it is evident there is not only a public but a large one for such drama.

THEATRE DIRECTORY

THE SIGMA—The famous stage success "Turn to the Right" has been purchased by Rex Ingram and is showing this week at the Sigma theatre. Alice Terry, Jack Mulhall and Harry Myers are some of the featured players. The program also includes a two-reel comedy.

AT THE QUILNA—For the final times today, the Quilna presents "Her Husband's Trademark" starring Gloria Swanson. In addition,

The children may not convince Dad that the tennis movement with a soup spoon is all wrong. "Push, Dad, don't pull" may be the sage advice of little Sammy when the family circle joins in Mulligan stew.

But, all joking aside, one of the first places these lessons in etiquette should be shown is the movie studio so that players and directors might pick up a few points. Directors and certain vainglorious stars might then know how to wear trains and when not to wear them and certain of our slick-haired heroes might learn that climbing over a fair companion in an auto is not being done in the best families this year.

The movies have been setting the national standard of etiquette long before the coming of these lessons. The movies have mimicked the actions, proper and improper, of society.

Persons who fully expected Mr. Lehr to find a new dance direction at a new studio at Orlando, Fla., are disappointed. He is not a dancer, but a director.

The program will change at a moment's notice. Mr. Lehr will be in touch with the audience and will be in touch with the audience and will be in touch with the audience.

By their patronage of the opening attraction, local exhibitors will show their entire approval of the policy being adopted, and Raynor Lehr and Company are expected to prove as popular as on their previous visits to the city. The kind of entertainment they offer is clean cut and intelligently varied, two qualities that should make their stay here a profitable one.

There's the first of the Robert Bruce scenic dramatizations "Ali Ben" by Rogers, Fables and a special musical program on the wonderful new Morgan Organ. New program on Wednesday.

AT THE LYRIC

The Lyric is featuring a double program this week, with Harold Lloyd in "The Finishing School," a story by Graham Baker, and "The Man Who Forgot God," a Fox special production, has been completed.

Frank Mayo and his bride, known on the screen as Dagmar Godowsky, contemplate a vaudeville tour.

Anna Q. Nilsson is the only player so far announced for "Pink Gods," adapted from Cynthia Stockley's "Pink Gods and Blue Demons."

NEVER USE DRUGS

Victims Liable to Suffer Heart Depression or Shattered Nervous System

The use of medicinal preparations containing powerful minerals, salts, or coal tar By-Products should be avoided by people who need health help. Powerful drugs are liable to depress the heart, shatter the nerves or cause intestinal irritation, stomach ulcers or other complications.

Physicians generally advise that some pure vegetable laxative tonic be used to freshen the blood and relieve constipation, sour gastric stomach, kidney, liver and bowel troubles.

Bulgarian blood Tonic being purely vegetable is a splendid medicinal tonic to use to relieve and assist nature to eliminate the poisonous wastes. Millions are now using Bulgarian Blood Tonic as their favorite family medicine. Physicians and druggists knowing that Bulgarian Blood Tonic is purely vegetable do not hesitate to recommend it—Adv

BUSINESS SIGNS ENCOURAGING

Factors Pointing to Improvement, Forbes Says

ARMERS ON THEIR FEET

Stories Gradually Adding More Workers to Payrolls

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK (Special) — Two weeks' Easter business in Wall Street has been boom- ing. It is more encouraging than if conditions had been reversed, the Wall Street activities always interpreted as foreshadowing developments and trends.

There are no influences and developments at work to modify this at- titude.

Three basic economic factors are: agriculture, employment, money.

The status of our forty million population has been sub- stantially improved by the recovery in wheat, in corn, in oil, in automobiles and in steel. As- sistants of Agriculture, Puga- ra, on his return from the Middle East, and South, that farmers are hopeful that the end of their war troubles is in sight. Many are already back on their feet.

Employment figures are very en- couraging. In one month the inter- national Harvester Company took in additional men, some of the automobile companies have added their forces still more; other companies have taken on com- pany numbers of workers; com- pany have been reorganizing in- dustries to get operations un- der way; steel plants are working on order books; equipment com- panies are very greatly enlarged their plants; the veritable boom in pig iron is creating a keen demand for skilled tradesmen; some of the roads have started improvement involving the employment of local workers; the oil industry is; the lumber trade is on the side.

Short, in hardly a single indus- try forces have been reduced, where- as in many directions, very consid- erable additions are being made.

For the monetary situation, it not only will be more conducive to revival of enterprise.

Absorption of new security of- fers to be amazing. Banks are turning altogether unrecus- antly to sell Treasury Certifi- cates at 4 1/2 per cent the lowest in the pie-7 per days and an ex- traordinary as compared with a year ago. Commercial banks can obtain funds at as low as 4 1/2 per cent, which is also to be quoted for collateral loans. Similar conditions exist over- theboard by the reduction of the rate of England rate to 4 per cent, which may be matched short- ly the New York federal reserve.

Pressure to find employment is illustrated by the spec- ulations in security mar- ket. A week ago brought new bids in the stock and bonds. The then seven government bonds rose above 100. For thirteen days sales on the stock to have been at the rate of one million shares every week that has not been often. Investment bankers as commission brokers agree in that public participation in security markets has widened remarkably, although in the market has not yet reached proportion. While the sense of recent weeks has been the prevailing opinion is that upward markets have entered a new stage, predicted on the for improvement in general during the year.

Matters as those here men- tioned far more heavily with- out. For example, the daily sales at Genoa, or new tariff on, or bonus backing and ill-impulsive improvement in foreign exchange during the year. This is generally ac- cording to the highest financial cir- cle some way will be found to improve the recovery. Our the expansion in exports with has also stimulated new and hopes that the millions of capital being in foreign countries will en- able to buy our products much

STOCKS DROP ONE TO SIX POINTS

Bearish Influences Prevail in Active, Broad Market

NEW YORK—In striking contrast to initial dealings of the past few weeks, opening prices in the stock market today were decidedly bearish. Yesterday's record operation and the unstable movements of certain leaders, especially the oil, evidently prompted a renewal of short selling, although rails showed marked firmness. Sinclair, Studenbaker, Midvale, Baldwin, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum and Atlantic Gulf lost substantial fractions. Standard Oil of California, U. S. Rubber, St. Paul, Atchafalaya, Illinois Central, New Haven and Coca Cola featured the market's stronger side. Reading's one point reaction reflected the latest aspects of the coal strike.

Call money opened at 3 1/2 per cent but selling on a large scale continued throughout the morning. Turnover for the first two hours was estimated at 750,000 shares, this falling considerably under yesterday's record. The more substantial reactions included Canadian Pacific and Standard Oil of New Jersey, which lost 2 1/4 and 4 points respectively. Foreign oils, especially Mexican Petroleum and General Asphalt were liquidated. Other transcontinentals eased with Canadian Pacific and coals lost ground. Reading, Steels, equipments, motors and tobaccos made 1 to 2 point recessions. Wilson, Montgomery Ward and People's Gas were among the few stocks to run counter to the general reaction.

Bearish influences prevailed in today's active and broad stock market. Aside from rails, extreme losses of 1 to 6 points were made throughout the day. Sales approximated 1,700,000 shares.

The closing was heavy.

MUTT AND JEFF—JEFF AIN'T HALF AS FOXY AS MUTT—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By GEORGE McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

A friend reports that Ben Com looked in a closet to see if he had any spring suits left from last season. He found one as good as new. He put it on and started downstairs to show it off. He slipped on the top step. "When I reached the bottom," he says, "the seat of the trousers was worn out."

Dr. Guy E. Noble found when he drove home that he had a punctured tire. He wondered why he hadn't noticed the flat tire while driving. "The reason I didn't notice it," he says, "is that all four tires were flat."

Harry F. Kline says one of his friends, a gifted pianist, reports that at a recent dance, when the orchestra started to play their instruments squeaked. "They think," he says, "that their instruments were stuffed with soap coupons had something to do with it."

Miss Irene Clark, stenographer, reports that the young salesman who sold her a pair of shoes in a downtown shop was delirious from spring fever. "And when I reached home," she said, "I found both shoes were for the left foot."

EXHAUSTED NERVE FORCE CAUSES THOUSANDS TO MAKE FAILURES IN LIFE

—Doctor Tells What To Do

When your nerve force becomes weakened, all the vital organs of your body lose their strength and vigor, and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear, such as nervous irritability, heart palpitation, indigestion, pains in the front or in the back of the head, more especially at the base of the brain, and a general weakened, run-down condition. In such cases it's worse than foolish to waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. Your starving nerve cells must have more nerve force, the same as a starving person must have food. This is best accomplished by increasing the activity and power of the nerve-force making organs, the principal one of which is the blood. This can be quickly and most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated.

Iron, which not only increases the activity of the blood-making organs, but it feeds true red blood food directly to the blood itself, thereby helping to create millions of new red blood cells. This wonderfully increases the power of the blood to help manufacture new nerve force, the same as enriching the soil increases its power to grow more wheat, corn or oats. If you are suffering from nerve force exhaustion, you can quickly and easily prove to yourself the power of Nuxated. Iron to help overcome your condition and make you strong and vigorous again by the following simple test: Make a willow memorandum of all your symptoms before you start, then at the end of two weeks, compare your symptoms again and place a check mark after any that are left, and you can at once see what it has done for you. If you have not obtained most surprising results, all and even more than you expect, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

Making Your Hair Improve Your Looks

How to Have Beautiful Hair—and Make Yourself More Attractive

EVERYWHERE you go your hair is noticed most critically. People judge you by its appearance. It tells the world what you are.

If you wear your hair becomingly and always have it beautifully clean and well kept, it adds more than anything else to your attractiveness and charm.

Beautiful hair is not a matter of luck, it is simply a matter of care.

Study your hair, take a hand mirror and look at the front, the sides and the back. Try doing it up in various ways. See just how it looks best.

A slight change in the way you dress your hair, or in the way you care for it, makes all the difference in the world in its appearance.

In caring for the hair, shampooing is always the most important thing.

It is the shampooing which brings out the real life and lustre, natural wave and color, and makes your hair soft, fresh and beautiful.

When your hair is dry, dull and heavy, lifeless, stiff and gummy, and the strands cling together, and it feels harsh and disagreeable to the touch, it is because your hair has not been shampooed properly.

When your hair has been shampooed properly, and is thoroughly clean, it will be glossy, smooth and bright, delightfully fresh looking, soft and silky.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soaps dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified coconut oil shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product cannot possibly injure, and it does not dry the scalp or make the hair brittle, no matter how often you use it.

If you want to see how really beautiful you can make your hair look, just follow this simple method:

A Simple, Easy Method

FIRST, put two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water. Then wet the hair and scalp with clear warm water. Pour the Mulsified evenly over the hair and rub it thoroughly all over the scalp and throughout the entire length, down to the ends of the hair.

Two or three teaspoonsful will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather. This should be rubbed in thoroughly and briskly with the finger tips, so as to Begin by studying your profile. If you have a short nose, do not put your hair on the top of your head; if you have a round face, do not fluff your hair out too much at the sides; if your face is very thin and long, then you should fluff your hair out at the sides. The woman with the full face and double chin should wear her hair high. All these and other individual features must be taken into consideration in selecting the proper hair-dress. Above all, simplicity should prevail. You are always most attractive when your hair looks natural—natural—natural!

Loosen the hand and small particles of dust and dirt that stick to the scalp. After rubbing in the rich, creamy Mulsified lather, rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly—always using clear, fresh, warm water.

Then use another application of Mulsified, again working up a lather and rubbing it in briskly as before.

You can easily tell when the hair is perfectly clean, for it will be soft and silky in the water.

Rinse the Hair Thoroughly THIS is very important. After the final washing, the hair and scalp should be rinsed in at least two changes of good warm water and followed with a rinsing in cold water.

After a Mulsified shampoo you will find the hair will dry quickly and evenly and have the appearance of being much thicker and heavier than it is.

If you want to always be remembered for your beautiful, well-kept hair, make it a rule to set a certain day each week for a Mulsified coconut oil shampoo. This regular weekly shampooing will keep the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, life-looking and fluffy, wavy and easy to manage—and it will be noticed by everyone.

You can get Mulsified at any drugstore or toilet goods counter, anywhere in the world. A 1-ounce bottle lasts for months.

It's a joyous treat to sit down to a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes

You'll agree that you never ate such delicious, such satisfying cereal as Kellogg's Corn Flakes! Those big, sunny-brown "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" are so fascinating in flavor and so crispy and crunchy that you don't wonder the children are thrilled to eat them!

Compare Kellogg's with imitations to realize their quality, their appetizing appeal, their wonder-crispness! Unlike imitations, Kellogg's are never tough or leathery, or hard to eat! Each heaping spoonful of Kellogg's is even more joyous than the last—there is no end to the happiness that is yours eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes!

ASK FOR KELLOGG'S! Be sure that you get Kellogg's—the delicious Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes. NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!
